Johnson Won't Change On War

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson says he will not be deterred, influenced or inflamed by his Vietnam war critics "regardless of my polls and regardless of the elections."

Departing from his prepared text in a nationally televised and broadcast speech to the AFL-CIO convention here Tuesday, the President said: "I am going down the center of the road—doing my duty as I see it—for the best of my country."

The representatives of organized labor roared their approval when Johnson said he would always be ready to hear and act on any proposal for ending the Vietnam war. And their volume increased when he added:

"But in the meantime I want you to know—and I want all Americans to know—that I am not going to be deterred. I am not going to be influenced. I am not going to be inflamed by a bunch of political, selfish men who want to advance their own interest."

The President also had harsh words for congressional Republicans, terming them "wooden soldiers" warring on progress.

He asked the representatives of the 14-million-member "house of labor" to help Democrats elect a "great Congress" in 1968.

About 2,000 convention delegates, officials and guests frequently interrupted Johnson's jibes at the Republicans with cheers, applause and laughter.

"The people know that the old Republican buggy can only go one way—backwards downhill," Johnson said. "That old Republican buggy has been colliding with us all year long," he said of GOP efforts in Congress to block or alter his proposals on education, antipoverty, medical care and Social Security.

The President's pledge to stand firm on his Vietnam policies drew renewed backing from AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"We support you, Mr. President, and we urge you to carry on," said Meany.

The only part of Johnson's speech met with silence was his plea for voluntary wage restraints, similar to his request last week for price restraint from business.

War Airlift 7000; Army Is 475,000

SAIGON (AP) — The biggest airlift of the Vietnam war pushed U.S. troop strength in South Vietnam to about 475,000 today, more than the peak of 472,800 American fighting men in the Korean war at its height 14 years ago.

The U.S. Command took the security wraps off the transfer from the United States of two more brigades of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, World War II's Screaming Eagles of Bastogne. About 7,000 of the paratroopers have been flown across the Pacific since Nov. 17, and another 3,000 are due by Dec. 20.

Wearing combat fatigues with a .45 revolver and dagger tucked in his belt, the 101st commander, Maj. Gen. Olinto M. Barsanti, snapped a salute on his arrival today at Bien Hoa Airbase and reported to Gen. William C. Westmoreland: "The 101st Airborne Division is present for combat in Vietnam."

Westmoreland, now commander of all U.S. troops in Vietnam, was the Screaming Eagles' commander from 1958 to 1960. The division's 1st Brigade has been in Vietnam since July 1965.

373 Flights

When completed, the airlift will have involved 373 transpacific flights, which after discharging men and supplies generally took off within 15 minutes on the 9,783-mile flight back to 101st Division Headquarters at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

U.S. spokesmen said the airlift is the longest and largest ever staged direct from the United States to Southeast Asia "and gave us an excellent opportunity to test our airlift capabilities."

The lift is delivering 10,356 troops, 5,118 tons of vehicles and cargo plus the division's full complement of 105mm cannon and 37 helicopters.

Thrust Kills 52 Reds

The new paratroopers are not expected to go into combat immediately and will receive some training before heading into the field. Then they will join the 101st's 1st Brigade, which is now part of the American Division.

The U.S. Command also removed the security wraps today from a new American infantry operation 28 miles northeast of Saigon and said 52 Communist troops had been killed in six days. Total U.S. losses for the period were put at two dead and 25 wounded.

The multibattalion search and destroy operation by units of the 25th Infantry Division is aimed at supporting revolutionary development (pacification) programs in the area and denying the rice harvest to the Communists.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force B52 bombers hammered suspected North Vietnamese troop and supply areas Tuesday night.

Michigan Loses 584 Soldiers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten states topped by California account for more than half the U.S. battle deaths after 81 months of Vietnam fighting, a Pentagon tabulation shows.

Leading in war deaths according to computer records are California, the most populous state, with 1,289, New York 968, Pennsylvania 814, Texas 789 and Illinois 703.

Rounding out the first 10 are Ohio 699, Michigan 584, Florida 459, New Jersey 397 and Indiana 377.

These states combine for 7,099 of the nation's 9,894 deaths listed as a result of hostile action in Southeast Asia between Jan. 1, 1961 and last Sept. 30, the last computer run available.

War deaths stood at 15,265 as of last Saturday.

In addition to the first 10, another 15 states have given up 200 or more men to the conflict. All the other states also have posted losses ranging down to Alaska's 10.

Vietnam combat deaths also are listed for Guam, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

The basis for determining state losses is the serviceman's home of record, which may or may not be his birthplace. In most cases this is his native home but some servicemen list as homes of record their parent's current home or the military bases where wives remain.

For all practical purposes the home-of-record system is regarded as relatively accurate in indicating the various state losses.

Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has announced the names of three more Michigan servicemen killed in action in Vietnam. All were in the Army.

They are Sgt. Richard G. Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Sherwood of Jackson; Cpl. Robert J. Bawal, husband of Mrs. Jaqulyn Bawal of Marine City, and Cpl. Randy E. Dillinder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Dillinder of Dearborn.

Cheerleader Killed

DURAND (AP—Karen Revels, 16, a cheerleader at Byron Area High School, was killed Tuesday night on her way home from a basketball game when her car went out of control on a rural road near her home and smashed into a tree. Shiawassee County sheriff's deputies said she was dead at the scene.

Bleacher Fall Hospitalizes 2

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — A section of bleachers holding about 900 fans collapsed Tuesday night in the Kenyon College Fieldhouse before the start of the Kenyon - Wooster College basketball game.

Kenyon officials said 16 persons were taken to hospitals in Mount Vernon, but only two, including a Michigan man, required hospitalization. None was injured seriously.

Injured were nine men and seven women.

Admitted to hospitals were Mrs. Eleanor Ench, 52, of Gambier, and Michael Dunn, 20, a Kenyon student from Dearborn, Mich.

"There was no panic from the crowd" as the stands gave way, said Kenyon's information director Peter Edwards. He said this probably prevented more serious injury.

The basketball game was postponed. The collapse occurred as the players were warming up. No players were hurt.

Romney's Asian Peace Idea Wins Favor In London

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — A sudden change in the weather on Europe's airways forced Gov. George Romney of Michigan to switch plans today and made it probable he must cancel a scheduled visit to West Berlin.

LONDON (AP)—Gov. George Romney was reported Tuesday to have received favorable reactions in London on his idea of neutralizing Southeast Asia to help end the war in Vietnam.

The Michigan Republican, first declared candidate for his party's presidential nomination, is on a foreign affairs tour that will take him to Moscow later this week and Saigon during Christmas. He began the tour in France and Britain.

Romney has identified himself with the idea of changing American objectives in Vietnam through keeping all the big powers out of Southeast Asia and allowing the countries in the area to work out their own policies. But he has not publicly spelled out the details of how such a policy could be achieved. One purpose of this trip has been to get different viewpoints on it.

A source close to Romney said he had received many favorable comments on the idea of neutralization, although some of the governmental officials he saw disagreed. Disagreement seemed to come from those who supported present U.S. policy in Vietnam and were convinced it was working, the source said.

Among those Romney saw Tuesday was Sir Alec Douglas-Home, former Conservative prime minister. He favors neutralizing Vietnam, with the big powers guaranteeing its neutrality in the cold war through the U.N. Security Council.

Upon his return home next month, Romney has no plans to unveil any Vietnam "peace plan" immediately But the source said he believes that if the Republican party and its presidential candidate criticize President Johnson's handling of the war during next year's campaign, they also will have to outline an alternative policy of their own for the voters to choose.

Senate Republicans Delay Open Housing

Hershey-Clark Draft Dissent Is Unresolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department may eventually find itself defending in court an action by draft chief Lewis B. Hershey with which it disagrees.

The situation could result from several suits—the principal one filed by the National Student Association—challenging Lt. Gen. Hershey's recommendation that local draft boards strip deferments from persons who interfere with the inducting process. He urged the boards to declare such persons draft delinquents, making them subject to priority induction into the service.

It was this policy, announced by Hershey in an Oct. 26 letter to draft boards, that brought him into conflict with Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

Justice Department officials have said Hershey's proposal is both unconstitutional and contrary to Selective Service law.

The department is said to feel that if an individual is guilty of a crime such as destroying a draft card or interfering with the draft, he should be prosecuted in court rather than subjected to immediate induction.

The National Student Association, with campus units at 335 U.S. colleges, is seeking a federal district court injunction in Washington to prevent Hershey or local draft boards from enforcing his directive.

It also asks that all Selective Service regulations dealing with classification of registrants as delinquent be declared unconstitutional. The association will seek a preliminary injunction Thursday at a district court hearing.

The department has, basically, three courses open to it:

— It could question whether the NSA is entitled to bring the case to court because it is not an individual who has been reclassified and therefore has not been injured by the Hershey directive or the law.

— The department may point out that a 1967 Selective Service Act provision requires that before reclassification may be challenged an individual must refuse to be inducted.

— Or the department could defend the Hershey memorandum.

Heart Patient To Leave Bed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky continued to make "satisfactory progress" today, his doctors reported, after sitting up and dangling his legs over the side of his hospital bed for the first time since his historic heart transplant 10 days ago.

Dr. Jacobus G. Burger, medical superintendent at Groote Schurr Hospital said a second heart transplant planned for early 1968 probably will be filmed.

Gold Agreement Squeezes France

LONDON (AP) — The Times of London said today that a new seven-nation gold agreement puts an "ingenious squeeze" on the French government which could force it to support the U.S. dollar with restrictions on gold sales.

To protect the dollar, the Times said the United States and its six partners in the gold pool agreed at a secret meeting in Basel, Switzerland, on Sunday and Monday to ban dealing in future sale or delivery of gold, to ban dealing in gold on credit, and to ban bids on behalf of other central banks which now will have to apply directly to the U.S. Treasury.

Members of the pool are the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands and Belgium. France withdrew last June but kept quiet about it until the French government leaked the information in the wake of the devaluation of the pound and added to the brief gold rush which developed then.

The new measures aim to protect official gold reserves from speculators during the readjustment of the international monetary system in the wake of the devaluation of the pound. But the measures amount to massive support for the dollar since they should help to protect the U.S. gold reserve.

The Times said application of the Basel agreement to the gold markets of the seven nations would naturally divert gold speculators to other centers, "of which Paris is the most natural and convenient."

"If the French authorities refuse to meet (the demand)," the paper continued, "they will be obliged to float the French franc either down against gold or up against the dollar.

"The first would gravely damage Gen. De Gaulle's prestige, and the second would weaken the international competitiveness of the whole French economy, which is already highly suspect.

"Alternatively, the French authorities will be compelled to apply precisely the same restrictions to gold sales as the gold pool countries. In that case they will be implicated in supporting the dollar as much as the other seven countries without even the consolation of a voice in the counsels of the gold pool."

Won't Take Up Bill As House Acts On Courts

LANSING (AP)—The open occupancy bill remained the exclusive property of the House today after Senate Republicans refused to take up the controversial measure.

Despite apparent lack of support among Senate GOP ranks, the bill's bipartisan backers in both houses still expressed hope for its passage during the remaining days of the special session

Meanwhile, House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said the House will try to finish the complex lower court reorganization bill today or Thursday "and get to work immediately" on open occupancy.

Would Bar Racism

The open occupancy, or open housing, bill would bar racial discrimination in most real estate transactions.

The Senate move Tuesday was a slap at Acting Gov. William Milliken and the majority Republican leaders of both houses, who had agreed that the Senate should take over open occupancy while the House worked on the court bill.

But the Senate GOP caucus voted not to support a proposed resolution to allow introduction of open occupancy in the Senate.

Both houses would have to approve the special resolution. Both GOP and Democratic leaders had said earlier that they would not object to the move.

Secret Ballot

The secret ballot in the GOP caucus reportedly was 11-6 with 18 of the 20 senate Republicans attending. One senator reportedly abstained.

Some legislators interpreted the vote as an indication that there are only six solid supporters of the bill among Senate Republicans.

Others felt it was a procedural vote and was not indicative of how the Republicans would vote on the bill itself.

If minority Democrats could come up with 10 votes for the bill, the Republicans would need another 10 to ensure the 20 votes necessary for passage.

Strength Unknown

Estimates by party leaders on how many votes each has for passage change from day to day.

"Yesterday I'd say we had 12, but today we're lucky if we have eight," Charles Zollar of Benton Harbor, assistant Senate majority leader, said shortly before the GOP caucus.

Pressure from both sides of the open housing issue reportedly is increasing.

Six-Year Fight Wins Federal Nepotism Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Iowa congressman has won his six-year fight for passage of legislation to ban nepotism in the federal government —from the smallest post office to Congress and the White House.

Rep. Neal Smith, a Democrat serving his fifth term, says the power of federal officials including judges to hire relatives or get jobs for them in other federal agencies is unfair to other jobseekers.

"I don't think the government gets its money's worth when you have that sort of thing," Smith said in an interview. "There are exceptions—some of these relatives work hard—but the bad overcomes the good."

Smith's antinepotism proposal was a rider to a bill raising the pay of federal workers and hiking postal rates. Congress passed the measure Tuesday and sent it to President Johnson, who's expected to sign it.

The measure will not affect relatives already working for congressmen and other officials.

The 47-year-old Smith's strategy in getting his rider through reflected an absence of enthusiasm for it in a Congress that, according to a recent Associated Press survey, includes some 50 members with relatives on their payrolls.

After it appeared his plan would die quietly in committee, he proposed it as a rider during routine debate on the postal-pay bill. Only about 80 of the 434 House members were on the floor and it went through.

Smith said some absent opponents of the plan weren't happy when they found out what he did. "But if they were interested in amendments they should have been there," he added.

Once the rider was in the bill, congressional sources said, it would have been embarrassing for any member to fight it.

"About half the relatives working in Congress do their work; half don't earn their pay," Smith said.

But the Iowa Democrat said his main concern was "widespread abuse" in the hiring of relatives by postmasters in small towns. In Iowa alone, he said, 111 postmasters have relatives on their payrolls.

Hold 3 For Bank Robbery

NIAGARA, Wis. (AP)—Michigan State Police and the FBI climaxed a 2½-day hunt for the robbers of a Negaunee, Mich., bank today by arresting two men and a youth in Wisconsin near the Michigan border.

Taken into custody were a trio identified as John M. White, 22, of Niagara; Ronald D. Mills, 20, of Helenwood, Tenn., and James G. Waymire, 16, of Upland, Ind.

Authorities sought federal bank robbery warrants against the three today. The suspects were jailed at Marinette.

Teller Held Up

They were held in the robbery of $6,914 Monday night from a branch of First National Bank of Negaunee, about 80 miles northeast of Niagara which is a town just inside the Wisconsin border near Iron Mountain, Mich. Two men, one wielding a shotgun, had entered the bank and held up teller Susan Dowrick, 22, of Ishpeming, Mich.

Police said the bandits left footprints in the snow when they fled, and the tracks led to a spot where a late-model pickup truck had been parked.

A late-model pickup truck was confiscated by police when the three were arrested today. An amount of money also was confiscated, officers said.

Asleep In Truck

FBI agents and State Police from Marquette and Iron Mountain joined in capturing the trio.

White was captured where he was sleeping in the get-away truck. Mills and Waymire were taken into custody at the White residence in Niagara. The connection of Waymire, 16, with the robbery was not explained by authorities.

The three were to be taken today before U. S. Commissioner J. T. Duffey in Green Bay and were then expected to be taken to Marquette for arraignment in Federal Court.

The alertness of three persons in the Marquette area was credited by authorities with assisting in the identification and resulting capture.

Warren Luoma, operator of the Wayside Motors, was reported to have provided the tip that led officers on the trail to Niagara; and two brothers, William Tresseder, 19, and his brother Edward, 14, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tresseder of Negaunee, described the get-away vehicle to officers.

When Impoverished Seek Aid

Domestic Trouble Tops Legal Service

"We're only beginning to scratch the problem of legal aid to the impoverished," says Nino Green, executive attorney of Upper Peninsula Legal Services, Inc., the free legal aid bureau set up for the Office of Economic Opportunity by UPCAP.

The service has been operative for more than a year in the U. P., but has had a full staff of six attorneys assigned one each to the six U. P. Community Action Agency areas since May. Green has an assistant at Gladstone, Atty. Richard Jason.

The OEO grant for last year's program expired Oct. 31, but the agency has had enough funds to continue on a curtailed basis (travel to outlying communities is suspended) until new funds arrive. A four month grant of more than $85,000 from OEO is expected.

Nino Green

Domestic Problems

The greatest call of the public for legal services has been in domestic relations. "I'd say" said Green "that this is because domestic problems are more frequent than any others. And this is a kind of problem that people relate with the law. They don't think of the law in a debt problem or a welfare problem.

"Among domestic problems we include divorce, separation, custody of children, modification of divorce judgments and of support orders.

"As of the end of November 1, 605 people had sought legal services. Five hundred seven of these specifically requested that a divorce be obtained. Of those, 273 cases are now closed, with 70 divorces resulting.

Reunite Most

"We have reunited more families than we have divorced," said Green. "In about half of the cases where divorces were granted, the whereabouts of the husband was unknown. We had to publish notices in the newspaper for legal service, because there was no family knowledge of where the man was. There were a few—three or four—where the wife had taken off.

"Even after a divorce suit has been started we have managed to witness the reconciliation of 35 couples. And of course the number of those reconciled before we started suit was much larger.

"We have had some persons brought to us by clergymen, saying that the marriage was hopeless and should be dissolved. In almost all the divorces the marriages represented situations in which there was no marriage in any real sense, all that was left was the legal binding."

Cost $168.591

Legal Services in 12 months cost $168.591 and had 1,478 applications for service. It figures out on a per case basis from $100 to $240.37 using various formulae of costs.

The other categories of aid include defense in misdemeanor cases, social welfare service (getting aid for dependent children, veterans' disability, Old Age Assistance, etc). "And we're getting more and more into a Probate Court practice concerned with the rights of mentally incompetent persons," said Green.

"We're getting involved more in child welfare law, child neglect cases, and sometimes these areas dovetail. Some people have almost all these problems and they've never had any help before.

Respect Regained

"When the poor man has problems he has very few options. I'm certain that in many cases the ability to resist the arbitrary use of authority contributes to the amount of self respect that the person is able to regain for himself.

"The problem is often analogous to alcoholism. The alcoholic lacks self respect. It's the same very often with those who are strapped by poverty and its degradation. Poverty destroys incentive as surely as alcohol does.

"Instead of winning money judgments for people and short term or intermediate results, once in a while you see that somebody has had their faith in our system of law renewed because they have had an advocate against what they feel is 'the system.' They hadn't been able to fight back before.

"Our divorce rate appears highest in Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette. Escanaba is significantly lower. The Ironwood area and the Copper Country are the lowest. The air bases near the Sault and Marquette may be contributing factors. Many Legal Services clients are women who wed men in the service who left them.

"The rate at which people are coming in to ask divorces has diminished considerably. This is because we've taken care of the backlog of women who had been deserted years ago but who had never had the means to employ counsel.

Problem Groups

Of 44 persons who asked us to file bankruptcy proceedings, we have only put 8 through bankruptcy. Twelve of the 44 were referred to private attorneys because they had means. The other 24 received counseling and assistance which enabled them to avoid filing in bankruptcy. We made arrangements with creditors to reduce installment payments and by deferring of garnishments and budget counseling we avoided bankruptcy.

"We have a disproportionate number of our clients under 25 who are undereducated and who are over 60 and underpensioned. I look for diminishing groups of these persons as we get more vocational education and as today's workers go into retirement with more adequate pensions."

SECRETARY OF Housing and Urban Development Robert Weaver differs with another cabinet officer, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, on whether an attempt should be made to halt the tide of migration from towns and rural areas to the troubled cities. Panax Expert To Aid Malawi

EAST LANSING — Walter Wierzbicki, technical director of broadcasting for Panax Corp., will leave for a two-year stay in Malawi, Africa late in December to direct the construction of seven radio stations.

Wierzbicki, 44, will be working as a transmitter installation engineer for the University of Missouri, which is conducting a communications development program in Malawi for the U. S. Agency of International Development.

Wierzbicki, of Swartz Creek, Mich., will direct the installation of three AM and three FM broadcasting stations and one inter-city relay station during his two-year leave of absence from Panax.

The stations will be constructed for the government-owned Malawi Broadcasting Corp., which already operates three AM facilities in the three-year-old country.

Wierzbicki, his wife and two sons will live in Malawi's capital, Blantyre. A daughter who attends Flint Junior College will join the family there later next year.

The Panax official said he agreed to go to the new African nation because "the people there cannot continue to exist without developing their educational and living standards."

Walter Wierzbicki

He said an improved radio communications network would be vital to raising educational standards.

Malawi, formerly a British colony, was given its independence in 1965. It is a landlocked nation in south central Africa about the size of Michigan. Most of its 4,000,000 inhabitants are engaged in agricultural production, since the nation has no known mineral resources.

Wierzbicki, a veteran of World War II, has been with Panax since July 1962. He formerly was transmitter supervisor of Flint radio station WBBC, now WTRX, and chief engineer of WAMM in Flint.

Since joining Panax, he has directed the technical improvement of WMAX in Grand Rapids WSWM in East Lansing, WABX in Detroit, WQDC in Midland and WGMZ, Flint.

Beef Meeting At Rapid River

The second in a series of informational meetings for beef cattlemen will be held at the Rapid River School tonight at 7:30.

The problems with pastures and hay crops will be discussed by Don Reid, crops specialist and the economics of cattle production by R. T. Hartwig, agricultural economics specialist. Both men are from Michigan State University Extension Service.

Coffee and donuts will be served after the two session and during this time cattlemen can ask questions regarding their beef operations. Those who failed to make the first meeting can still get a packet of handout material to review the information covered by Terry Greathouse on management.

Soo Hill Plans Room Visitation

The December meeting of the Soo Hill PTA will be held Dec. 14 in the new multi-purpose room of the school. Room visitation will begin at 7:30 p. m. and parents will have opportunity to view Christmas art projects by the students. The business meeting will be followed by a Christmas social hour. Refreshments will be served by fifth grade mothers with Mrs. Kermit Bender as chairman.

BLOOD DONORS IN CUBA

HAVANA (AP) —The two-million member Committees for the Defense of the Revolution have set a goal of 50,000 blood donations for 1968. The neighborhood watchdog groups say they got 25,708 donations this year.

Scout Leaders Roundtable Set For Thursday

The monthly roundtable for Red Buck District Scout Leaders will be held Thursday at the Flat Rock School at 6:30 p. m.

A meal will be served and the reservations should be phoned to Harold Marenger, ST6-5075 or Francis Lancour, ST6-2986.

The Cub Scout Leaders session will be based on the theme for January — "Communications." Songs, skits, ceremonies and craft will be included in the program.

The Boy Scout Leaders will have a theme of "Personal Fitness" and a highlight of "Conservation Good Turn". Some of the featured topics will be the troop prepared plan, personal fitness merit badge and troop conservation projects.

The Order of the Arrow will have a meeting and dancing session with instruction on Indian dancing.

Launching Dec. 21:

Program Planned For Christening Research Vessel

Persons prominent in government, conservation, commercial and sport fishing will come to Escanaba for the launching of Michigan's new 60-foot fisheries research vessel on Dec. 21.

Dale Vinette, president of the T. D. Vinette Co., which is completing the construction of the steel-hulled craft, said the christening ceremony accompanying the launching is scheduled for 10:45 a. m. at the Escanaba yacht basin.

Funds for the boat, "Steelhead", were appropriated by the Michigan legislature, with additional funds for some of the miscellaneous deck and electronic gear coming from federal fisheries research moneys. Total cost of the vessel is $105,000.

Based At Charlevoix

Mrs. E. M. Laitala, the wife of Conservation Commissioner Laitala of Houghton, will christen Michigan's first "floating laboratory", attended by Mrs. Ralph MacMullen, whose husband is director of the Conservation Department.

With a speed of 15 miles an hour and a cruising range of 1,000 miles the "Steelhead" is equipped and designed for test netting, sonar research, test trawling, and other scientific research of the Great Lakes fishery. It is powered with two Cummings NT-380 diesel engines.

The boat will be based at Charlevoix on the east coast of Lake Michigan and its skipper will be Capt. William Palmer, formerly with the U. S. Army Engineers. Palmer is a native of DePere, Wis.

Charlevoix is providing the state with a permanent dock and a supply building for the boat that will work out of there in serving in a variety of ways, ranging from fishery patrol and transportation to research.

Well Equipped

Equipment on the boat will include a one-ton double drum winch for hydrographic lifting, with direction finder; radar, radio, telephone, depth recorders and other electronic devices.

The general laboratory on the vessel will permit chemical, physical, biological and meteorological studies of lake water, and there will be equipment for light and medium coring (sampling) of the lake bottom.

Besides Commissioner and Mrs. Laitala and Conservation Director MacMullen and Mrs. MacMullen, those who will come to Escanaba for the launching will include:

Dr. Wayne H. Tody, chief of the fish division; Walter R. Crowe, Great Lakes management unit, fish division; William Mullendore, chief of information and education; and Charles D. Harris, deputy director for resource management, all of the Department of Conservation.

Nursery School Expanding Here

The Escanaba Cooperative Nursery School continues to grow and in the latest enlargement there is the oportunity for enrollment of a few preschool age children beginning with the second semester in January.

Parents interested in becoming members of the Cooperative Nursery program and enrolling their child in January may register with Mrs. Donald Alimenti, ST 6-4512.

The general pre-registration for the Nursery School program beginning in the fall of 1968 is also under way and interested parents may phone Mrs. Richard Pardon, ST 6-0618 for registration.

There are 45 children in the Nursery School program held at the First Methodist Church. The teachers are Mrs. Marie Schubert and Mrs. Byron Zeni, and the mothers of the children serve as assistants and thus become personally involved in a learning situation helpful to the child and the family.

Loss Of Mails Doomed Copper Country Train

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Officials of the Milwaukee Road and the Soo Line have blamed a loss of mail traffic for their seeking to discontinue daily runs of one passenger train between Milwaukee and Calumet, Mich.

They appeared at a hearing called by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Milwaukee Road was represented by R.G. Scott, assistant to the general manager and R.N. Edman, chief statistician. Richard J. Barry, Soo Line comptroller, was to represent line.

The hearing involves a proposal to discontinue one northbound and one southbound train called the Copper Country Limited. The Milwaukee Road operates the train between Milwaukee and Champion, Mich., and the Soo Line between Champion and Calumet.

Escanaba Area To Join Foreign Student Program

The Escanaba Area Board of Education Tuesday authorized Supt. Luther M. Barrett to proceed with initial steps to bring a foreign exchange student to Escanaba next year.

Barrett recommended to the Board that Escanaba participates in the Youth For Understanding program of the Washtenaw County Council of Churches.

Under the program, at least one foreign student would come to Escanaba for a year of study. The Gladstone public school system is already involved in the program with three foreign students attending classes at Gladstone High School this year.

There would be no expense to the Board of Education in the program.

In other business, the Board referred bids on demolition of the Washington School to Barrett and Business Manager Stephen C. Baltic for analysis and recommendation. Eleven firms offered bids on the project, ranging from a low of $5,745.63 from McMahon Bros., Iron River, to a high of $13,999 by Wesolelski Wrecking Co., St. Charles, Mich.

The Board also approved sale to two school cars to Barrett and Vernon Ihlenfeldt, high bidders.

Cars Sold

Ihlenfeldt offered $280.25 for a 1960-model car, the high of six bids received, and Barrett's bid of $351 was high of five received on a 1961-model.

In connection with the sale, the Board moved that the insurance coverage of the district with regard to the use of automobiles not owned by the district be investigated and if the district is not covered that bids for such coverage be requested for public liability and property damage.

Trustee Wheaton Strom said that if some one was driving his private automobile on school business that person would be acting as an agent of the school district and consequently the school district be held liable for damages in the event of an accident.

Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder, president of the board, made the following appointments: Forrest Henslee, representative on the Delta County Tax Allocation Board, with Albin Pearson Jr., alternate; Rollie Collins, representative to the Intermediate School District special education review committee; Claude Bohn, representative to the Intermediate District budget review committee, and Richard Hanson, legislative representative for the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Henslee and Pearson were designated as delegates to the National School Board Association meeting scheduled March 30-April 2 in Detroit.

Teachers Hired

Two new teachers were hired for the second semester, Barbara Ann Goelz, to teach sixth grade, and Sandra Karjala, to teach first grade.

Mrs. Goelz is the wife of the high school chemistry teacher and has four years experience at Willow Run. Miss Karjala was highly recommended after she did eight-weeks of student teaching at the Washington School this fall, Barrett said. She will graduate from Northern Michigan University.

Mrs. Ruth Neumeier (Republican) and Robert Dagenais (Democrat) were appointed to four-year terms on the Escanaba Area Board of Canvassers. Their terms begin Jan. 1.

A report from Barrett indicated that parent-teacher conferences in elementary schools last month were very successful with participation over 85 per cent in all city schools.

The new Jefferson School had 100 per cent participation in all grades, Barrett said.

Frank J. Bink Dies At Home

Frank John Bink, 67, vice president of the Coco-Cola Bottling Co., of Escanaba, died early Tuesday afternoon at his home, 329 N. 15th St., after a lengthly illness.

Mr. Bink was born Oct. 6, 1900, in Escanaba, and had been a resident of Escanba all his life.

He was a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, a member of St. Joseph's Church and its Holy Name Society, and was an honorary member of the Knights of Columbus. He was initiated into that order on Nov. 16, 1919.

He was married to the former Lucille Sauers on Aug. 4, 1925, in Escanaba.

Surviving are his wife; four sons, James of Madison, Wis., Gerald of Milwaukee, Ronald of Racine, Wis., and Frank of Escanaba; one daughter, Mrs. William (Janet) LaMarche of Escanaba; two sisters, Mrs. Jack (Theresa) Schramel of California and Mrs. Ted (Rose) Lauck of West Bend, Wis., and 15 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Degnan-Crawford Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday. Knights of Columbus rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. with parish prayers at 8:30 p.m. Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Joseph's Church with Fr. Jordan Telles officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

The Wells Lions Club will hold their annual Christmas party for the children of Wells, Soo Hill, Flat Rock areas on Wednesday, Dec. 20 at DeCock Bottle Gas & Appliance Co. at 7 p.m.

Santa Claus will be there with goodies. Robert Curtis is chairman of the party.

Music Program Set At College

The Music Dept. of Bay de Noc Community College will present a choral program at 12:30 p.m. Thursday in the student center.

Featured on the program will be a women's barbershop quartet, "The Missettes." Members of th group are Donna Young, lead; Diane Sjoquist, tenor; Susan Nyberg, baritone, and Linda Rockberg, bass.

The girls, all freshmen from Gladstone, will sing "Bye, Bye Blues", "Jingle Bells", and "White Christmas".

Two new groups at the college — The Madrigals and the Women's Chorus — also will appear on the program. The Women's Chorus will sing "Carnival Of Melody", the famous "Carol of the Bells", and "Snow, Snow Beautiful Snow". Accompanist is Ned Vanders, a sophomore from Gladstone.

Featured selections by the Madrigals will be "Sing We and Chant It", "Behold That Star", and "Fum, Fum, Fum". Ross Feak is featured as tenor soloist.

Mrs. George A. Peterson is director of choral activities. Students, faculty members and the public is invited.

Dinner For Two

The Upper Peninsula is honoring Wilbert and Caroline Treloar tonight at a testimonial dinner at Northern Michigan University on the occasion of his retirement after 42 years as a newspaperman.

It was in 1925 that this native of the Copper Country and heir to its Cousin Jack traditions left Eben, after a year there as its school principal following graduation from Northern State Teachers College.

He had attracted the notice, if not the admiration of the Marquette Mining Journal by reporting for it shortly before, a fire which had made 36 persons homeless. He says that it has troubled him since that it took a blaze of that magnitude to get him a $23-a-week job as a reporter.

The Mining Journal passed him along to the Iron Mountain News and it sent him to the end of the line at its Iron River bureau, where he found something better than journalism in Miss Caroline Anderley, whom he wed. They had their first date on Armistice Day, 1925. The war in Europe had been over for 7 years.

Waba was hooked on a newspaper career, but he is too supercharged to have remained in the editorial department. In his years with the Russell Newspapers and, more recently and currently with the Upper Peninsula Division of Panax Corp., he acquired a fabulous ambidextrousness. He is the DaVinci of Upper Peninsula journalism, equally at home in the editorial department, the advertising department or the manager's chair.

This sort of one-man-do-everything isn't unusual on weekly newspapers, but it's rare on dailies because they accomplish publication by division of labor and it specializes their staff. Wilbert Treloar can wear enough newspaper hats to stock a haberdashery and it is this versatility, practiced outside the newspaper field as well as inside it, that is bringing him the deserved public recognition that he gets tonight.

His talents would have been useful in many fields but he stayed in newspaper work, to the great benefit of the public. He has made a big contribution to newspaper quality in the Upper Peninsula and that is a public service of subtlety but great worth. It makes government accountable to the people and it rewards achievement and exposes predation. The work has special dimensions in an area like the Upper Peninsula with its small population and great area and relative isolation.

For the past 42 years Wilbert Treloar has been working in this vineyard of public affairs. Such seniority would be worthy of public notice in its own right, especially having included survival of Prohibition, but the testimonial which Sam Cohodas has organized is a tribute to the whole man, not just the newspaperman.

Throughout his newspaper career he has been a public figure and an increasingly useful and respected one. His concept of his job was dichotic. He felt an obligation to serve the public as well as his newspaper. The narrow view of his devotion would be that newspapers have to have communities to serve, but he served his communities so well that he became one of the very best known and most highly esteemed citizens of the Upper Peninsula.

And there might have been even all this without the testimonial, except that he did it with such good humor. He not only is our U.P Morey Amsterdam but also our George Jessel. No one in the history of the U.P. has been a toastmaster more often nor given more after-dinner speeches than Waba Treloar. And even when he's spooning in his joke barrel he manages a dignity that hasn't been sunk by his nickname, his pesty recipes, a thousand demands upon his leadership to help public causes, or his punning.

Whenever there's something difficult to be done for people, one of the very first signals is apt to be "Waba off right tackle." (He's a conservative, but will try off left tackle rather than lose the game.) Frank Russell said of him once: "There are only two movers left in the U.P.: Ed Harden and Waba Treloar."

It is unique to have such a big shindig for a newspaperman who isn't an owner-publisher. He is the first example of our managerial revolution in communications. The public can only regard his career as outstanding and his retirement as dangerous because he has a hankering to write poetry.

Dissent

The right to dissent, we are repeatedly told today, is one of the fundamental strengths of a democracy.

In the opinion of one noted historian, however, dissent is not the great strength but the great problem of America today.

The trouble, says Daniel J. Boorstin of the University of Chicago, is our failure to make a distinction between dissent and disagreement.

Dissent, he says, means originally to feel apart from others. Disagreement produces debate, but dissent produces dissension.

"People who disagree have an argument, but people who dissent have a quarrel."

A sniper's bullet is an eloquent expression of dissent, he says. It doesn't express disagreement. It is simply formless, inarticulate, unproductive.

There is another expression of dissent that might be cited. The hippie does not disagree with the values of society (some of which certainly need disagreeing with), nor does he desire to change them. He wants no part of that society at all. But in the psychedelic subsociety he flees to, he becomes the greatest conformist of all.

Professional dissenters do not seek to assimilate their ideas or ideals into American culture, he charges. Their main object is to preserve their separate identity as a dissenting group. They are not interested in anybody's freedom but their own.

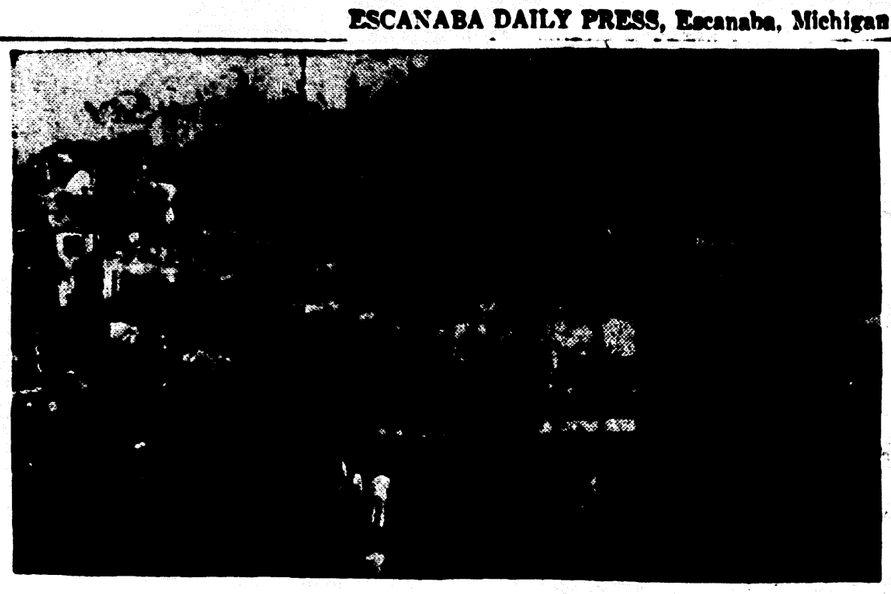
A society of disag[illegible] is a free and fertile and productive society. A society of dissenters, he warns, is on the road to chaos.

"Quotes"

We have come a long way in the first 10 years, but in terms of exploring and fully understanding our solar system, we still have a long way to go. Unless we are prepared to move ahead with new programs of planetary exploration, for example, we will be backing out of the Space Age almost before we enter it.—James E. Webb, head of National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Only rebellion, I think, can save us from ultimate suffocation.—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, deploring government invasion of citizens' privacy, in an article in Playboy magazine.

We are not engaged in a war on poverty. It is only a skirmish. The neglect of decades cannot be overcome immediately. —William Haber, University of Michigan economist.



British New Industry Hope Rides On Thin Air

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—With the recent unveiling here of the world's largest Hovercraft, which will carry 600 passengers across the English Channel on a cushion of air, the British have established a clear lead in the cushion-borne field.

The $12.6-million SNR-4, which has just been unveiled here, is four times bigger than any other Hovercraft yet built. It weighs 165 tons, is shaped like a flying saucer, and can deal easily with 12-foot waves when the English Channel cuts up ugly, according to its makers.

After engine and system checks, the giant SNR-4 will be put through extensive trials off the Isle of Wight before being turned over to its owner, Hoverlloyd of Sweden, which hopes to start a cross-Channel service next spring.

Like all previous Hovercraft, the SNR-4 is the brainchild of Christopher Cockerell, whose first model was made from a baking powder can and powered by a vacuum cleaner. The Hovercraft has come a long way since those early pioneering days.

Today, more than 200 inventions have ben patented, stemming from the original Hovercraft air-cushion principle, and the manufacture of Hovercraft marine vehicles has been licensed in the United States and Japan, among other countries.

Among the more promising projects on drawing boards here are Hovertrains, Hoverbeds and lifting machinery, all of which are being financed by the quasi-governmental National Research and Development Corp.

The Hovertrain will be the costliest to develop but probably has the greatest commercial future. Track Hovercraft Ltd., a new company, has been set up to build a Hovertrain which will travel from 200 to 300 m. p. h. on a rectangular track using a silent linear induction motor. (The French are also experimenting with Hovertrains but using air-screw propulsion, which is noisy.)

The Hoverbed, in which the body floats on a cushion of warm, sterile air, is especially designed for the treatment of severe burn cases, and has been developed by doctors working with Hovercraft engineers.

The first two patients have already been successfully treated on Hoverbeds, and its backers are so enthusiastic that they are talking about Mark 2 and Mark 3 models.

One patient was burning waste paper in a gale force wind when his oily clothes caught fire; the other had burns over one-third of his body. Both were placed on Hoverbeds where their bodies were suspended on air cushions, and as a result the weeping areas of the burns dried rapidly.

The Hoverbed uses what is caled a "segmented skirt," which is an outgrowth of the Hovercraft air cushion principle. In this case, a bag made of nylon and coated with synthetic rubber is hung inside the bed's rigid framework. The top of the bag consists of two rows of pockets, or skirt segments, which are inflated when warm, sterile air is pumped into them.

When the patient is placed on the bed the pockets form a seal along the side of his body, and fall away beneath it. The body is thus left solely supported on air.

The same segmented skirt principle was used recently in Manchester to move an oil storage tank 50 feet in diameter, and with a storage capacity of 300,000 gallons from one site to another.

The rubberized skirt was fitted around the base of the tank, and the segments inflated until the tank was floating on an air cushion. It was then easily towed away by a tractor. During the operation the giant tank traveled over two stretches of rough ground, a railway line, and a road, and was turned through 180 degrees at its new site.

Use of the skirt eliminates jacking up the tank and laying tracks for it to be moved on rollers. A bright future is predicted for the new invention.

The postwar history of British inventions has been a sad one, with scientists and engineers having to look to other countries for finance that was not forthcoming at home. This process has been reversed in the case of the Hovercraft, on which Britain stands to reap the full rewards of her inventive genius.

25 Years Ago

The Escanaba Eskymos took their fourth consecutive victory of their basketball season by edging the Iron Mountain Mountaineers, 43-42. The Eskymos seemed headed for defeat, and by the middle of the third quarter Iron Mountain led 30-16. Then the Eskymos staged a exciting comeback in the fourth quarter to win the game.

Questions And Answers

Q—Why is a strained muscle in the leg or arm called a "Charley horse"?

A—The exact origin of the expression is not known but the general theory is that the first victim was a lamed racehorse named "Charlie."

Q—Which is the world's largest meteor crater?

A—The Coon Butte crater in northern Arizona, which is 4,150 feet in diameter and about 575 feet deep. The crater was formed about 25000 B. C.

Q—How long can a ribbon worm live without food?

A—Regenerating pieces, or even an intact worm for that matter, can live for a year or more without food.

Q—How does the new federal law redefine antiques?

A—Taxable under customs laws are any objects less than 100 years old; older works are regarded as antiques. In the past, dealers had considered anything made in 1830 or before an antique.

Q—What popular name is sometimes given to the city of Duluth, Minn.?

A—"Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas," from its position at the head of the Great Lakes.

Q—Was Stephen Foster a southerner by birth?

A—No, the author of our best-loved plantation songs was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1826.

Q—Which U. S. president was once a prisoner of war?

A—During the Revolutionary War, Andrew Jackson was captured by a British raiding party. When he refused to black a British officer's boots, the soldier struck Jackson with his sword and threw him into jail.

Opening lead—♦ K

The only name player lasting to the semifinals in the national rubber bridge championships at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas was Morrie Elis, of New York. Morrie won many national titles including the Vanderbilt in the late '30s and '40s but has confined himself to rubber bridge play for the last 20 years. Maybe that's the way to practice for a rubber bridge tournament.

Morrie sat South and it was the next to the last hand of his quarter-final match. Both sides were vulnerable and he was exactly 600 points behind when he picked up a fine spade hand. He opened one spade, his partner raised him to two spades and Morrie passed.

He wouldn't have done so in a regular rubber bridge game or in any form of duplicate since his hand clearly called for a bid of game, but this was a tournament and Morrie was bidding to the score. It seemed to him that he would be just as well-off making a partial as winning the rubber. If he won the rubber, he would go into the last hand with a 20 or 50 point lead, depending on whether he made four or five tricks. This would leave an even-Steven situation for the last hand.

If he made a part score he would be in almost as fine a position. Another part score would give him game and rubber, and assuming he made more than one no-trump or two clubs or diamonds he would win by a few points which was all that counted. On the other hand, if his opponents competed he would have to double them and set them two tricks to win. The two tricks penalty would be 500; the 60 below the line would make it 360 and he would get a 50-point bonus for his part score to win the match by a 10-point minimum.

On the other hand, if he bid four spades he might go down, whereupon he would be 700 points behind and would need a slam to win the match.

It was well that he did pass. He could make only three odd in spades and would have been set at game. On the last hand his side had the better of the cards and made four diamonds to win the match.

TROUBLE

The American taxpayer is sustaining an unbelievable burden. Last year taxes collected at all levels of government broke through the $200 billion mark. Only 11 years ago governments collected $100 billion in taxes, just half the present level. Uncle Sam gets two-thirds of the total tax take.

Yet, the federal government is still in a bind. Recently, the director of the Bureau of the Budget predicted we will face a $20 billion dollar deficit this year. The President has asked Congress for a 10 per cent surtax to boost the federal income. Under pressure he also suggested a $4.1 billion dollar cut in spending.

While I applaud the President for the proposed reductions in expenditures, I am dubious about the value of a tax increase. The Federal Reserve Board has recently increased the rediscount rate. This will directly result in higher consumer credit costs, dampening the demand for new houses, new industrial plants, automobiles and other consumer durable goods. The economy is already soggy.

Our industries are operating at 84 per cent of plant capacity. Unemployment is the highest in two years despite war procurement for Vietnam. In my opinion a surtax, on top of these other dampening factors, could throw enough cold water on the economy to plunge us into a recession.

Instead of a surtax at this time we need to strengthen our domestic and international financial position by bringing our international payments into balance. We need to reduce unnecessary spending; we should halt creation of new federal programs like Demonstration Cities and Rent Supplements which would add the better part of a billion dollars to our deficit.

I feel a 10 per cent surtax is potentially dangerous, and by the following broad outlines I have suggested, we can move forward in the direction of a balanced budget and relief from rising prices.

Doctor Can Say If The Zoo Should Go

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what is wrong with a woman who has an asthmatic child and yet insists on keeping two chipmunks, a dog, a cat, a rabbit, a flying squirrel and three ducks. All this livestock walks around loose in the living room.

The child is forever wheezing and is now broken out all over with a terrible - looking rash.

I've told her if she would get rid of the zoo her boy might get well. She says I am crazy.

Please give her your opinion on whether or not this boy could be allergic to the animals. She might listen to you. —A FRIEND

Dear Friend: It is more than likely that the boy's allergy is related to the zoo, but only a doctor can say for certain. If the woman has not taken the boy to a physician, I certainly hope she will do so at once.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letters you get from mothers who do not approve of their daughters' boyfriends. When my daughters are old enough to have boyfriends, I'll remember my own bitter past.

I was 18 and a high school graduate when I fell for a 30-year-old man who was separated from his wife. My mother kept telling me, "He's too old for you. He's no good. He'll never marry you."

I was determined to prove to my mother that I COULD get him to marry me. I nagged him into getting a divorce (which I know now he didn't want) and I even paid for it to knock down his excuse that he didn't have the money for a divorce.

That was eight years ago and now we have three children. The man is no good and I am miserable. I've left him twice, but with three kids it's too hard to go it alone, so now I am back with him. My mother keeps saying. "You made your bed. Now lie in it. If you had listened to me, you would not be in this mess."

The truth is, if she had kept quiet, I would not be in this mess. Say so, please.—DETERMINED

Dear D: The most difficult thing for a mother to learn is when to lay off. Mothers—and fathers, too—have an obligation to speak out and warn their children when they see them heading in the wrong direction. But having spoken out they should keep quiet. Repeated nagging will serve only to drive their children to some rebellious act which, as you know so well, can be disastrous.

Dear Ann Landers: I came to work in this office two months ago. Everyone has been terribly kind to me, especially a woman who is about 10 years my senior. This woman would be quite attractive if she didn't have a mustache. It's the first thing I noticed about her when we met. Others have mentioned it also, so it's not my imagination.

She's so alert about so many things it's hard for me to understand why she is unaware of this. I know of a good cream that removes unwanted hair. I use it myself. Shall I mention it?—CELESTE

Dear Cel: Yes, it would be a real act of friendship. Some people who seem alert about many things don't know what's going on right under their noses.

Coho Stocking Costs Feared As Fishery Problem

Competition between lake trout and coho salmon can be expected in the Great Lakes in the wake of planting programs involving the two species, according to a federal fisheries specialist.

Richard Pycha, Ashland, Wis., program leader in lake trout research for the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, said both lake trout and cohos will eat the young of other species and both eat the same food, so "I expect there would be a competition conflict and conceivably a predation conflict as well."

He spoke at Northern Michigan University Tuesday at a session of the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee.

Pycha's agency, the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, has long been concerned with lake trout planting to rehabilitate this species in the Great Lakes. The Bureau also has directed the program to curb the population of sea lampreys, a parasitic species that preys on lake trout and other game and commercial fish in the Great Lakes.

Trout Decline

Michigan experienced a return of cohos of 28 per cent a year and a half after planting.

"Ten years ago," said Pycha, "we had an even higher percentage of returns on lake trout planting in Wisconsin waters of Lake Superior."

He said lake trout releases there in 1955 yielded a return to commercial fishermen of 38 per cent over several years — despite lamprey predation. The highest return for any one year was 16 per cent.

Now, however, laker survival is not much more than a tenth as good as it was eight years ago, Pycha said. Lake trout have grown larger and big lakers "have no qualms about eating small lakers." Consequently, as the size of plantings was increased, survival declined (because of predation by larger lake trout) and growth rates went down (because of competition for food.) He indicated that the same pattern might result in coho plantings.

Costs Questioned

Pycha questioned the coho program on the grounds that it is anticipated that almost all restocking will come from hatchery-raised fish. Hatcheries, he said, are "mighty expensive" to operate.

Asked about lamprey predation on cohos, Pycha said salmon are "definitely attacked but the incidence of wounds is fairly low. So far as we know, salmon require lamprey control."

Turning to alewives, a salt water herring that has moved into the Great Lakes and created problems, by large-scale dieoffs and by displacing other fish species, Pycha said these are the only fish that occupy all parts of the water of the Great Lakes — at different times of the year.

"They appear so abundant only because of their habit of concentrating in one part of a lake at a time," he said.

"I think it's too early to say what should be done with alewives," Pycha said, listing such alternatives as eliminating them from the Great Lakes and replacing them with more desirable species, managing them as forage fish for other species and utilizing them as food.

St. Lucia Serves Early Breakfast

GLADSTONE—Several Gladstone residents were awakened before dawn this morning and wondered what was happening. Well today, Dec. 13, is St. Lucia Day, in case anyone has forgotten.

Ebba Bundeson, Swedish student attending Gladstone High School under the Youth for Understanding Program, has told the St. Lucia legend and traditional Swedish customs to members of Mrs. Wallace Cameron's French class and the group decided to try out the custom on several of their teachers.

Promptly at 4:30 a.m. 20 students assembled at the Robert Hupy residence, 611 Minneapolis Ave., where Ebba resides and with Ebba wearing the traditional white costume and lighted crown and each student carrying a lighted white candle the group walked to the Wallace Cameron residence.

They entered the home (with the permission of Mrs. Cameron) which had been left unlatched and promptly began singing Christmas carols, (in robust voice.)

After being thoroughly awakened the Camerons were served coffee and cake in bed by the students. The group then continued to the William Wood, Robert Richards and Tom Bolek residences to greet them.

The Swedish Christmas begins with St. Lucia Day, Dec. 13 and symbolizes the, "Return of Light." According to legend, Lucia appears between the hours of 3 and 4 in the morning and brings food for the poor of the parish.

Cohos Are Doing It

Fishboat Sales To Set Record In '68

By KENNETH S. LOWE

Boat, outboard motor and tackle sales will break all records in Michigan next year. Fishing license sales will jump. The tourist business will boom and fewer Michigan tourists will be going to Canada.

Why?

Because of the coho salmon.

Those predictions were made Monday night by Dr. Howard Tanner, "the father of the Great Lakes coho salmon program," in an address before the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee.

Addressing 44 committee members and technical resource persons attending the committee's meeting at Northern Michigan University, Tanner envisioned an unprecedented sport and commercial fishing bonanza in Michigan stemming from the coho program, which was undertaken only a couple of years ago.

And after 1968? "Would you believe a harvest of one salmon —averaging 10 pounds — per acre?" Tanner asked. "I don't see why it can't reach those proportions, although I'm not going to predict that. But conservatively, let's say one salmon per 10 acres of water. That still would leave a harvest of 5 million salmon in the Great Lakes annually."

To End Season

When that happens, Tanner conjectured, the Michigan Conservation Department probably will allow only sport fishing for cohos up to a certain date (probably Oct. 1), after which both sport and commercial harvesting would be permitted each year.

In December 1964 and January 1965 Michigan received its first coho eggs. Other Great Lakes states were invited to participate in the program, Tanner said, but none indicated an interest.

Why was the coho chosen as a species for sport fishing management instead of concentrating on lake trout, which had already begun a comeback in the upper Great Lakes?

Dr. Howard Tanner

"The lake trout has many characteristics that are less than desirable," Tanner explained. It grows slowly. Females require six to nine years to mature. It is not a spectacular fighter. It doesn't concentrate in large numbers. It is one of the most difficult fish to manage. Production, in terms of pounds per acre, is low.

Fast Grower

The coho, on the other hand, grows to a large size in a hurry. (From one ounce to 20 pounds in 16 to 20 months.) It matures in three years and returns to the point of release in substantial numbers, following a predictable migration pattern. It can be located in large schools. It can be caught at or near the surface. It is available during peak tourist months. It has great beauty, is good to eat and is easily caught —"it's just not too smart."

Tanner listed another — a psychological — advantage of the coho. If not harvested, it will die and be wasted, so sports fishermen can't argue for stockpiling salmon.

Finally, said Tanner, who has since left the Conservation Department to become director of the Michigan State University Division of Natural Resources, the coho is a great predator that thrives on alewives.

Alewives Persist

"I have to believe there will be an alewife problem on Lakes Michigan and Huron for the foreseeable future," he said, "but salmon will help to control alewives."

In the spring of 1966, approximately 850,000 cohos a year and a half old were released—650,000 in Lake Michigan and 200,000 in the Big Huron River in Baraga County, a tributary to Lake Superior.

By the following fall, some precocious "jacks" (males) already had returned to the Lake Michigan streams, some of them weighing eight pounds, somewhat bigger than West Coast jacks.

In the spring of 1967, the size of the coho plant was almost doubled, and the first year class of chinook salmon was introduced by the Conservation Department.

(Chinooks, which live four, five or six years, grow much larger than cohos.)

First Big Catch

The first big take of cohos was last spring, when about 23,000, weighing from three to seven pounds, were caught by commercial fishermen from Indiana before that state extended protection to cohos from netting.

Meanwhile, sport fishermen were catching cohos in surprisingly large numbers in Lake Superior throughout last spring and summer.

By August catches of large cohos became numerous in Lake Michigan, where a tremendous coho fishery developed during September. Many from 15 to 18 pounds were taken on hook and line. The official record was a coho weighing 22 pounds, eight ounces.

On one occasion, about 6,000 sport fishing boats were counted on Lake Michigan between Frankfort and Manistee.

Salmon then entered the Manistee and Platte Rivers and Bear Creek from Lake Michigan in such numbers that traffic jams of stream fishermen resulted. They caused problems of property damage and litter and eventually forced the Conservation Department to close the streams to hook and line fishing.

Eggs Stripped

The department caught salmon in weirs for egg-stripping and after that sold approximately 900,000 pounds to commercial fishermen.

Cohos created so much excitement in the northern Lower Peninsula, Tanner said, that 10,000 people visited a fish hatchery there just to witness egg-stripping operations.

Michigan's cohos, weighing a collective 53,000 pounds at the time of planting returned 1,500,000 pounds, or 28 times the investment, Tanner said.

"I think coho are here to stay as long as any trout or salmon in the Great Lakes," he added. "And there is every indication chinooks will be as successful as cohos or moreso."

Tanner said he expects cohos also will be planted in Lake Huron, probably in 1968.

Need Commercial Nets

"We can never hope to harvest the amount of cohos available by hook and line. Probably 30 per cent in any year class is the maximum for sport fishing. So, following the sport fishing period, there must be a period of commercial harvest."

"In my opinion, the Great Lakes Fisheries Commission has offered a degree of opposition throughout to Michigan's salmon program," Taner said. "An air of disapproval has persisted on the part of the commission." He attributed this to what he called "domination of the commission by commercial fishing interests and domination of commission thinking by the lamprey control and lake trout rehabilitation programs." He said the commission failed to meet Michigan's needs and Michigan had to undertake the salmon program without commission support.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: On their way to destroy the Pigwidgen, Claus uses the magic arrow to slay a giant. Later Tweedleknees insults a witch who turns him into a donkey.

THE SNAKE NEST

Tde donkey gazed at Claus from large brown eyes. He rolled his lips back from his big yellow teeth and swung his heavy head.

"So it's you!" sighed Claus. "You made the witch angry and she has bewitched you. Now what are we to do?"

The donkey brayed piteously.

Claus remembered the magic ring the elves had given him. It could be used once to change a creature's shape. Claus took the ring off his finger and slipped it on the long tail of the donkey. He twisted the ring three times, saying, "Change to your natural shape."

The donkey vanished. Patrick Tweedleknees stood there rubbing his ears. "Am I glad to get rid of those donkey ears," he cried. "They itched terribly and I had nothing to scratch with."

"Perhaps I should have left you as you were," said Claus. "It would have kept you out of trouble. Now we have used both the ring and the arrow and still have not met the Pigwidgen."

"Never mind," said Tweedleknees airily. "We have other weapons."

"Yes," cried Claus. "But you must be careful and control your temper."

Tweedleknees promised to be very, very good and they continued on their way. Now it was truly cold. The snow was many feet deep. As they trudged on with their heads bent against the wind they saw a rabbit shivering in a snow drift.

"How cold he looks," murmured Claus.

"I will warm him under my coat!" said Tweedleknees. He reached for the little creature. The rabbit took one look at the elf and scurried away.

"What gratitude!" exclaimed the elf.

"Never mind," said Claus. "He doesn't know what's good for him."

"I'll show him," growled Tweedleknees. He ran after the rabbit. The faster he ran the faster the rabbit ran. Claus ran after them both shouting, "Let him go! What does it matter?"

Suddenly the earth gave way and Tweedleknees plunged headlong into a deep pit while the rabbit went merrily on his way. Claus crept up and stared over the edge of the pit.

"I've fallen in some kind of a trap," puffed Tweedleknees. "Here, help me out."

Claus leaned down but he could not reach the elf. He dragged up a fallen log and dropped one end into the pit.

But Tweedleknees screeched, "It's not a trap! It's a snake nest!" Claus peered over the side and saw hundreds of snakes wiggling around the elf.

"Climb the log!" shouted Claus.

But Tweedleknees was too petrified to move. He stood there staring as if hypnotized, too scared even to shake. The snakes were annoyed at being awakened from their long winter sleep. They twisted and curled into a tight circle around the elf.

Claus pounded on the snakes with the log but they slid out of the way. He shouted and threw rocks into the pit. But the only one hurt was poor Tweedleknees who was too frightened to duck.

The snakes' sleepy eyes glittered. Their pointed tongues darted in and out. It was clear they were getting very, very angry.

The snakes approached the terrified elf.

Michigan Flier Dies In Crash

FT. WOLTERS, Tex. (AP—Two fliers—one from Michigan—died when their helicopter crashed in Central Texas on a routine training flight.

Army authorities identified the victims as CWO Robert E. Yarbrough, 25, son of Robert C. Yarbrough of Rosemead, Calif., and William C. Marks, 22, a warrant officer candidate whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George M. Marks of Union Lake, Mich. Yarbrough was a teacher and Marks a student.

GM Bargaining Faces Deadline

DETROIT (AP)—With a deadline less than 48 hours away, bargainers for the United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. worked today on a new contract covering 380,000 workers at the giant of the auto industry.

Bargainers met for more than 10 hours Tuesday in subcommittees and main table sessions.

If national contract bargaining is not completed by Thursday, the union says it will set a combined national and local strike deadline for early January. If the national agreement is wrapped up, however, the union will set a deadline for local contracts for later in January.

If the national agreement is wrapped up, however, the union will set a deadline for local contracts for later in January.

About 5,200 workers were idled Tuesday by a one-day walkout over local contract issues at GM's Delco Radio Division plant in Kokomo, Ind.

GM is expected to go along with the provisions of contracts which over a three-year period will give 160,000 Ford workers and 103,000 Chrysler employes roughly a $1 an hour more in wages and fringe benefits above the old Big Three level of $4.70.

One problem peculiar to GM which could cause trouble is a company requirement that UAW shop committeemen work at least one hour a day at their regular jobs before attending to union duties.

The union wants the rule lifted to enable committeemen to devote full time to union duties as they may at Ford and Chrysler.

U.S. Holds Edge In Ocean Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal official estimates the United States holds a 5-1 edge over all other nations combined in its ability to probe the largely untapped—and politically disputed—wealth of the oceans.

But even with that capability, says Dr. Edward Wenk, the United States has refused to engage in any race for control of the vast animal, vegetable and mineral wealth believed hidden in the oceans' depths.

Wenk, executive secretary of the National Council on Marine Resources and Engineering Development and President Johnson's chief adviser on oceanic matters, told The Associated Press:

There Is No Race

"You can't say we're winning the race for the oceans because there is no race. No nation can come close to matching our progress in this field. Our exploration capability is greater than that of all other nations combined and multiplied by five.

"But President Johnson has made it clear that we will not get involved in any colonization race for the deep oceans and sea beds."

The question of which nations have what rights in the ocean's depths was laid in August before the United Nations.

The Mediterranean island nation of Malta proposed to the General Assembly that an international agency take jurisdiction over the sea beds, with the net financial gain from their exploitation "be used primarily to promote the development of poor countries."

Debate Control

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, in rejecting the proposal, suggested instead the world body study the question of jurisdiction. Meanwhile no nation or agency would be given control and there would be an international program to determine what the seas hold that might be worth the effort and cost of recovering.

The debate that followed was expected to produce establishment this week or early next week of a U.N. committee to study the scientific, technical, economic, legal and other aspects of the question. The panel would report its findings to the next General Assembly session.

It would be the beginning of a process which the United States hopes may produce an ocean treaty similar to the treaties covering Antarctica and outer space, Wenk said.

Some government officials and several members of Congress say they believe the exploitation of "ocean space" is more vital than the race to the moon.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

T-V Documents U Of M Changes

CHICAGO (AP) — Life on the campus has become so controversial these days that as a subject of discussion it is encroaching on the plateaus of religion and politics.

This comes to light in "Michigan Cum Laude", an hour television documentary produced by WGN Continental Broadcasting Co. which deftly portrays the problems and contributions of a "space age university."

Tom Harmon, the football hero who was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1941, narrates the show while television newsman Mike Wallace, class of '39, conducts poignant student interviews sprinkled throughout the program which honors the University of Michigan's 150th anniversary.

A private showing of the program was held Tuesday and the film will be shown in Chicago Dec. 26. It also will be distributed elsewhere, particularly throughout Michigan.

It overwhelms, bewilders and even shocks the graduate of 25 years ago. At the same time it greatly enlightens the view whose general concept of university life is one of riots and rebellion.

Harmon asks the logical questions of the various deans and at the same time reminisces over the days when as a student he could take a date to a union dance for a dollar and at intermission have a hamburger and chocolate malt for a quarter.

Students Questioned

Probably the most signaling change Harmon notes is "36,000 of them studying here, and 40 per cent of those are in graduate work. That's somewhat larger than the 7,000 who were here during my undergraduate days."

Wallace asks the students why they came to Michigan, have their years been fruitful, are the teachers too concerned with themselves and their own work? Are the classes too big and why the burgeoning social protests?

"Are you protesting because that is one way of understanding that you are indeed an individual?" asks Wallace.

The social protest has less to do with the school than it would seem," says a student. "It's more of a protest against the Vietnam war, civil rights, and things like that, then protest against the university."

Old Grad Difficulties

The viewer is taken across campus from the nuclear center to the haunts and hangouts. From the football field to the drama halls.

"Do you have trouble with the old grad who returns to school and finds it changed?" Harmon asks Dr. William Haber, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

"Trouble is the wrong word," says Haber. "All of us must accommodate to change and adapt to change, and when an alumnus returns here after 25 years and finds this is not the university he knew — that the students dress differently — he has difficulty accepting and accomodation."

Delta Lodge 195 Installs New Officers

Delta Lodge 195 F&AM held public installation of officers on Saturday evening. Installing officer was Past Master Fred Fisher.

Officers installed were: Robert Jenshak, Master; Harry Hayman, senior warden; Walter Lewke, junior warden; Verne M. Johnson, secretary; Hans P. Johnson, chaplain; Clifton Reno, senior deacon; Harold Ogren, steward; Ernest Anderson, marshal and Dean Anderson, tiler.

Other installing officers were Rev. Karl Hammar, installing chaplain; Guy Knutsen, installing secretary and Fred Bennett, installing marshal.

Gwen Virgo presented several vocal solos and was accompanied by Mrs. C. Colvin. The welcome was given by Glenn Matheson. A reception was held in the dining room at the conclusion of the ceremonies and program.

Democratic Club Blasts War Policy

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — The Birmingham - Bloomfield Democratic Club has passed by a vote of 15-8 a resolution calling for an open Democratic convention next year and condemning President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

The club has about 40 dues paying members, some from the Detroit suburb of Bloomfield Hills, the residence of Gov. George Romney, so far the only declared candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Mrs. James Elsman, the club secretary, said the resolution would be sent to state and probably national party officers.

AIRMAN Richard C. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton P. Johnson, 1029 N. 18th St., has returned to duty at the Naval Air Station, North Island, San Diego., Calif., after spending leave with his parents. He is assigned to the chaplain's office.

Ford Warns Of Tax Hike Peril

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A tax hike "is not needed and even undesirable" at this time and might interfere with the growth of the economy, Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., said Tuesday.

Ford made the comments at a press conference in Grand Rapids on the occasion of Gerald R. Ford Day," honoring his 19 years as 5th District representative in Washington.

He labeled as "only rumors" talk about a massively increased defense budget next year.

Ford said he believed a non-military man should be appointed the next secretary of defense, adding "there is enough military influence through the joint chiefs of staff."

He said the United States should continue to supply Israel with arms to "keep a balance" with the United Arab Republic which he said was being assisted by Russia.

The Republican congressman said he hopes that 1968 would see the end of the Vietnam war but indicated he wasn't optimistic.

Ford was greeted at the Kent County Airport and traveled by motorcade through a drizzle in Grand Rapids. He was to address a Lions Club meeting in the afternoon and appear at a public reception before speaking this evening at Ottawa Hills High School.

Registration Of Aliens Scheduled

The nation's 32,000 post offices will participate in the registration of about 3½ million aliens next month, Escanaba Postmaster James Pryal said today.

Under the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, every post office is responsible for providing registration cards and turning the completed cards over to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The cards must be picked up personally by registrants and they may be handed in to the post office when completed or turned in directly to Immigration and Naturalization offices.

Post offices will accept the cards only until the end of January, the month in which the aliens are required to register. Those who have not registered by Jan. 31 must go to Immigration and Naturalization offices to do so.

Cards and all materials needed by post offices in the registration are being mailed to the offices this month, but registrants may not obtain the cards until January.

Pupils Exchange Smoke Permits For Candy Mints

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Pupils at Groves High School here are swapping permits to smoke for candy in a campaign against smoking and cancer.

Approximately 150 pupils at the school, who brought signed statements from their parents, had permits to smoke in designated areas. J. Rife English, the principal, said about 75 pupils so far have exchanged the smoking permits for the candy mints which were donated by a manufacturer. The idea was developed by the student council.

Choose Carols, Color For Christmas Charm

This Christmas, choose a theme from the words of one of your favorite carols and express its meaning through the creative use of color in your Yuletide decorations. Here are a few of the best known Christmas songs from which you could select a mood for your decorating scheme:

"Joy to the world! the Lord is come . . ."

"Hark! the herald angels sing. Glory to the new-born king:

Peace on earth and mercy mild . . ."

"Silent night! Holy night! All is calm, all is bright . . ."

"O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie!

Above thy deep and dreamless sleep the silent stars go by . . ."

Themes From Carols

The whole family can have fun with this project, suggesting carols they particularly love, and applying the chosen theme with the pushbutton ease of spray paints. Carefully plan the effect you want to achieve before starting. For instance, it would be an original and soothing setting for all the activity and excitement, to provide a mood of peace and contentment using blues, whites and metallic touches.

There is a definite language of colors; they produce certain thoughts and feelings, and understanding a few of the ideas associated with them will be useful in your preparations. According to color experts there is a reason for our seasonal preference for certain shades: Bright, warm colors like orange and red suggest warmth, gaiety and joy. Green is associated with hope and life everlasting.

A noted theologian saw the evergreen as a symbol of immortality, as it survived winter's cold, keeping its living color. This idea of rebirth explains our present use of holly, ivy and mistletoe, for they too are evergreens.

Light, cool colors of blue, turquoise and violet, are calm and serene. Blue, particularly, expresses restfulness, truth and dependability. White means purity, peace, faith and joy. Silver symbolizes birth, purity, the spirit, and the promise of happy times; while gold stands for royalty and power. As one of the gifts of the Three Wise Men — Melchoir, Balthasar, and Caspar — gold meant that Christ was acknowledged as King of men.

Simple Colors

After you have decided on a general color scheme, try to keep hues simple. Limit yourself to three. Here are some easy suggestions for translating your Christmas message into decorations that your whole family will enjoy creating.

The tree could set the stage for a blue theme of Peace and contentment. After spraying with blue enamel, you can vary the usual tinsel and bulbs by painting and gilding walnuts to hang on the boughs. Gild various shapes of uncooked macaroni, thread on a string, and glue to foam balls for attractive tree ornaments. Stars and ovals can be cut from fabric remnants, attached to a cardboard backing and hung by thread from branches. Use a gold doily to make a star for the top of the tree.

An effective treatment for wreaths is to spray them in metallic silver or gold — white enamel, if you prefer — and string them with popcorn, colored gumdrops, and painted dried corn kernels. Top this with a splash of "greenery" made from a large oilcloth ribbon.

Try using muted light bulbs in your chosen color to give an interesting contrast to different areas, and provide a general feeling of restfulness. You will be amazed at the transformation you can create with lights and shadows.

Make breathtaking chandeliers out of pine cones that have been spray painted. Collect various sizes and shapes, and string them together with fine picture wire, putting the largest ones on first.

Another way to light up your Christmas scene is with garlanded hurricane lamps. Trim the base of each with an assortment of cranberries sprayed pines and mistletoe.

The result is sure to be a harmonious and imaginative treatment that will bring you singing praise and give new meaning to your family holiday pleasure.

Ypsilanti Project Plans School For 3-Month-Old Tots

YPSILANTI (AP)—Carnegie Corporation of New York will decide late this month whether to fund a $138,000 pre-school education program for three-month old infants in Ypsilanti.

The Ypsilanti School Board approved the program at a session Monday night.

The project would send teachers in the homes to work with mothers of 12 three-month old infants next spring and 32 three-month old infants in the fall. Mothers would be encouraged to help their children by using language to foster the development of a child's ability.

"When a mother says 'Be quiet,' we'd like her to add 'because you're bothering me'," explained Dr. David P. Weikart, director of special services for Ypsilanti School District.

"We hope to develop a curriculum based on the conclusion that pre-school programs for three and four-year olds are starting too late," he said.

In 1962, Ypsilanti became the first school district in the nation to receive federal funds for pre-school projects. Carnegie's executive board previously approved the request.

Rapid River PTC Bazaar Is Successful

Several attractive booths were featured at Rapid River's PTC Holiday Bazaar, Monday evening. The booths displayed homemade Christmas decorations, small gift items, fancy jams and jellies and bake goods. The senior and junior classes each had a bazaar table showing Christmas cards and cook books.

One table showed several small, wooden, red and blue cars made by the school's industrial arts class. Persons donated to the car fund and a car will be given at Christmas to some child to brighten his holiday.

Santa Claus was present to greet the children. Christmas trees were sold for the bazaar benefit by Harold Pratt and Lee Beeck. Harvey Deneau directed the games.

The successful affair was planned and arranged by Mrs. Lee Beeck, general chairman and her committee, Mrs. Harold Pratt, Mrs. Pete LaBumbard, Mrs. Ed Lamberg, Mrs. Oswald Hansen, Mrs. Gerald Heslip, Terrance Johnson, Harvey Deneau, Mrs. Ray Phillips, Mrs. E. Venton, Mrs. Bill Soderstrom and Mrs. Barbara Norlander.

Boy's Club Program At Calvary Baptist

The Boy's Club program of the Calvary Baptist Church is part of an international organization known as, "Christian Service Brigade."

The church has two units in its program, the Stockade for boys age 8 to 11 and the Batalion unit for boys 12 to 18 years of age.

Mike Schaefer, Tom Stiglitz and Peter Brostrom have excelled in their Stockade program by learning skills building projects, learning stories and re-telling them, being faithful at meetings and memorizing Scripture.

They have passed four ranks and are now Stockade builders. The boys will now begin work on the Sentinel rank.

John Stiglitz is the chief ranger and works with five other rangers in the 30 member club that meets every Tuesday evening.

Panforte, a traditional Christmas confection.

Make Panforte Now For Christmas

News Enterprise Association

Here's a really delightful Christmas cake or confection, rich with almonds, candied peel, cocoa and honey, plus a touch of aromatic bitters.

Wedges of it wrapped in plastic wrap, and presented in an airtight container, would be a de luxe and very welcome Christmas gift. It will keep for weeks.

ANGOSTURA PANFORTE

- 2 cans (4½-ounces each) toasted chopped almonds
- 1 jar (4 ounces) candied orange peel
- 1 jar (4 ounces) candied lemon peel
- ½ cup all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup cocoa
- ½ cup honey
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon Angostura aromatic bitters
- 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Combine almonds, fruit peels, flour and cocoa. In a saucepan, combine honey, sugar and Angostura. Bring to a boil and boil while stirring for 5 minutes. Pour syrup over fruit mixture. Blend quickly and press mixture with wet hands into a buttered 10-inch pie pan. Bake in a pre-heated slow oven (300 degrees) for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Return to oven for 2 minutes. Cool and then cut into small wedges. Wrap each wedge in plastic wrap and store in an airtight container. This can be served as a cake or confection and can be made several weeks in advance.

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When I am ready for a thorough house cleaning, I begin a few days ahead to pick up things and put them away. I also spot clean around the door handles and walls.

When I'm ready to start the heavy cleaning, all of this is done and makes the hard part go much faster and easier.

Mrs. Forrest Gillett

From Heloise's Kitchen

Dear Folks:

When you want to thaw steaks or chops, don't put them directly on your drainboard where they thaw slowly on the bottom side.

Either use a cake rack cooler or just remove a burner rack from your stove, place it on your drainboard, and lay the steaks on it.

This allows the air to get under the rack for quicker thawing, top and bottom.

Dear Heloise:

Dear Heloise:

Before discarding unwanted clothing, be sure to remove all good zippers, buttons and trimming. Wonderful to have on hand for mending, school costumes, doll clothes or decorating homemade projects.

Dear Heloise:

During cool weather months we have been caught away from home without a sweater or jacket on unexpected cool evenings.

Now I keep a light wrap for each member of the family in a plastic bag in the trunk of our car. It has saved us from many a chill.

A&P

we care

what's in a name?

Our full name is
"The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company."
But, to most, we're "A&P" for short.

And some friends like to call us "The Tea Company."

Why? Well, in 1859, when A&P began,
our first product was tea.
We bought full shiploads from the Orient
and sold it at great savings to the public.

You learn a lot about tea in more than 100 years.

Today, you can savor the results of all that experience
by tasting one of A&P's fine tea products:
Our Own Tea Bags, for example.

Each bag contains up to 15 of the world's finest teas,
from as many as 5 different countries.
It can take that many to develop our distinct blend.

So now you know why, by some, we're called
"The Tea Company."

If you'd like to know why we're called "Great,"

Senior Citizens Meet Legislators

Sen. Thomas Schweigert and Rep. Charles Varnum visited with 20 senior citizens at the Drop-in Center Friday evening. Topics of discussion were open housing legislation, tax reform, and the legislative process.

"This really does not affect us very much in the Upper Peninsula," said Varnum, leading off the discussion on proposed open or fair housing, "and it's not really going to reach the people who were rioting in Detroit. It's a symbolic move to show responsible Negro leaders that militancy is not the answer. It's not jobs and it's not money that these people are mostly concerned with; it's human dignity."

Schweigert expressed concern over implications he saw in the Detroit riots: " . . . only the beginning of a deep-seated, deep-feeling revolution that is sweeping this country. If this thing flares up to its fullest extent, we're really going to have a job to put it down. It's much more serious than perhaps even our overseas problems."

On tax reform, Varnum emphasized that "we would have utter chaos" without the state income tax. State spending would have been cut drastically without tax reform. He reminded the audience that older people have a double state income tax exemption ($2400), and he said that the senior citizen property tax exemption could have been endangered without fiscal reform.

"I might be a one-termer because I voted for the income tax," he said, "but I know that in the long run the people of the Upper Peninsula and of the entire state will be better off because of it."

He added, "I doubt very seriously that you will see any drastic changes in the tax reform program in 1968."

Schweigert informed the group about legislative process: how a bill becomes law. Examples of legislation came up in answer to questions from the audience.

A woman pointed out that 75 per cent of Schoolcraft County is owned by the federal or state government, therefore taxes are paid on only 25 per cent of the land. She wanted to know why the government buys so much land, keeping private enterprise out and keeping the land off the tax rolls.

Varnum said that the sale of county land is made by the board of supervisors, and that objection to land sales should be taken up with the board or with individual supervisors. Both Varnum and Schweigert have introduced bills in their respective houses to add five cents to the present 20c per acre "swamp tax". Luce, Chippewa, and Schoolcraft Counties would benefit most from this legislation, but it would cost the state $101,000 more. Passage does not seem likely in the near future.

Schweigert said that the federal government does not pay a tax, but pays 25 per cent of timber revenues and 10 per cent for developing forest growth, the Seney Refuse pays nothing. He suggested that if the group of senior citizens present were interested in the problem, they might point out to the national representatives the difference between the federal and state methods of reimbursement for the use of county land.

It was generally agreed by the audience and the legislators that the kind of dialog experienced Friday night at the Drop-in Center was valuable to all concerned, and that similar meetings should be scheduled at the end of each session of the legislature once or twice a year.

Soo Says 1967 Cut Hauls, Upped Cost

President Leonard H. Murray reports 1967 found the rail industry in the vise of declining shipper activity and rapidly rising costs. In the case of the Soo, two high volume commodities, grain and lumber, moved at reduced paces, reflecting the farmers' desire for higher grain prices and a decline in the number of new construction starts.

Throughout the year economic setbacks continued. The Soo's traffic fell below the company's break-even point in many months as the demand for service slackened beyond the point to which corresponding expenses could be reduced. Yet the Soo remains confident in its future and of the part it playes as a vital link in the nation's transportation industry. During the year steps were taken to insure that the company will continue to grow in terms of both facilities and services.

During 1967 the Soo took delivery of equipment with a total value exceeding $5.7 million. Included were 360 cars, 4 locomotives and 10 cabooses. In addition, the company received late in the year the first of 500 aluminum-body covered hopper cars for bulk grain service that it will acquire under orders placed in 1966. Total value of these cars exceeds $9 million.

For 1968, the Soo's directors authorized more ambitious equipment acquistion program, amounting to over $18.7 million.

Computer operations on the Soo moved into a new phase during July with arrival and installation of an IBM System 360 Model 40 computer. A second will arrive in August, 1968 to provide "on-line" operations which will help direct the make-up and movement of trains.

Centralized traffic control was extended for an additional 90 miles during the year. A lone dispatcher now controls all main train movements between Chicago and Steven Point, Wis. Work was immediately begun to extend the system from Stevens Point to Chippewa Falls, Wis. Eventually the Soo will have all its main line trackage under centralized traffic control.

A thermo-scanner, or hot-box detector, was added to the Soo's roster of automatic train inspection devices, as well as two new base stations to improve main-line radio communications over the entire Soo.

The winter months saw the fourth season of Unitrain movements of wheat from Duluth, and Minneapolis to Buffalo, N. Y. Twenty-two unitized shipments moved on a weekly schedule, providing marked advantages in equipment utilization and scheduling, regular and reliable flow of raw materials and economical distribution costs.

The same concept was used late in the year when the Soo participated in the unit movement of iron ore from Minnesota's Mesabi Range to Granite City, Ill.

The last of the Soo's major passenger operations ended in 1967 after the Post Office Department had removed all mail from the trains.

SEATTLE (AP) — Thieves and Christmas trees are turning a Seattle gasoline service station lot into a double-duty station for members of Boy Scout Troop No. 15.

The boys are selling the trees in the daytime to earn money for some new camping tents and sleeping in a bunk-rigged bus at night to prevent theft of their merchandise.

Nursing Home Resident Hit, Injured By Car

Olof Bergquist, 74, a resident of the Delta Nursing Home, was struck and slightly injured by a car while he was walking across U. S. 2-41 near the Nursing Home driveway at 4:20 p. m. Tuesday.

His condition today at St. Francis Hospital was reported as good. He suffered minor scratches and bruises.

State Police of the Gladstone post reported the car that grazed Bergquist was driven by Marie L. Neubauer of the Chemical Location, who was driving south on the highway and attempted to avoid the accident.

State Police also reported they are investigating a breaking and entering at the home of Mrs. Robert Gazley, Gladstone Rte. 1, who reported at 8 p.m. Tuesday that a couple of watches, a ring and some cigarettes are missing. Entrance was made through the unlocked front door. The investigation is continuing.

Third Quarter Surge By Eben Rips Broncos

EBEN — A third quarter surge paced by 6-foot-3 Paul Salminen paced Eben to a 59 to 51 victory over Bark River in a high school basketball game Tuesday night.

The teams battled evenly throughout the first half, deadlocking at 14-14 after one quarter and 27-27 at the half.

Salminen, however, triggered 12 of his 20 points in the third quarter as Eben outscored Bark River 22 to 8 to seal the victory. A Bark River rally in the fourth quarter fell short.

Salminen, besides his team leading 20 points, grabbed 15 rebounds. Sophomore Alex Freeberg contributed five steals, five assists and 11 points to the winning effort.

Tom Ray paced the Bronco's with 16 points.

The winners shot 32 per cent from the field on 22 baskets in 69 attempts. Bark River sank 18 of 52 for 36 per cent.

Bark River won the junior varsity game, 53 to 45.

Rock Records First Victory

ROCK — The Little Giants of Rock shook off a cold first half from the free throw line Tuesday and defeated Pembine 71-54.

The victory was Rock's first in six games.

Despite missing nine of 10 free throws in the first half, the Little Giants took a 31-27 lead at intermission. Warming up in the second half, they increased the edge to 10 points after three quarters enroute to the final 17 point margin.

Dan Johnson led the winners with 24 points. As a team, Rock netted 28 of 81 field goal attempts for 35 per cent. Pembine shot a cold 16 of 66 for 24 per cent.

From the free throw line, Rock connected on 14 of 21 shots in the second half to finish with 15 of 31.

Pembine won the junior varsity game, 37-21.

Frazier Would Battle Cassius

BOSTON (AP) — Unbeaten heavyweight contender Joe Frazier says if he ever becomes champion he will be glad to fight Cassius Clay—but only in the United States.

"This is my country. If I win the title, Clay or anybody else wants to fight me in my country," the Philadelphia said after arriving Tuesday to tune up for his Dec. 18 bout with hometown favorite Marion Connor at Boston Garden.

Frazier's comments came at a press luncheon when it was suggested that a fight with Clay, who was stripped of his title by the World Boxing Association after his difficulties with the draft, might have to be held abroad.

"I'd love to fight Clay," he said, "but only if they let us fight in the United States."

Frazier avoided any criticism of Clay for his stand against military service, but when asked whether he had been in the service himself he replied: "No, because I have three children and another on the way. But if they call me for the service I will go."

Looking at the nearer future, Frazier and his manager, Yank Derhan, said they plan to challenge the winner of the WBA's current heavyweight tournament.

"I didn't think the WBA tournament would survive as long as it has," Derhan said. "But it did survive, and we will challenge the winner as soon as they crown one."

Indiana Pacers Seek ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers, recipients of a boost from an unexpected quarter, get a chance at the Eastern Division lead in the American Basketball Association tonight.

First-place Minnesota was crushed by Kentucky, the division's cellar occupant, 113-94 Tuesday night, closing the Muskies' lead over the Pacers to one-half game. Minnesota plays Indiana at Newcastle, Ind., tonight.

In other ABA games Tuesday, New Orleans beat Dallas 109-105 and New Jersey took Anaheim 117-98.

The Colonels, who only have a 9-16 mark, hit on 49 per cent of their shots from the floor in downing the Muskies, who connected on only 37 per cent. Darrell Carrier led Kentucky's scoring with 21 points while Mel Daniels had 16 for Minnesota.

New Orleans, leaders in the Western Division, had to fight off a late-quarter Dallas rally to gain its 20th victory against six losses. Jack Jones had 29 points for the Buccaneers, while Cliff Hagan had 28 for the Chaparrals.

Dan Anderson scored 29 points and led New Jersey to its victory over Anaheim on the West Coast. Anderson sank three straight free throws that put the Americans ahead to stay 49-46 with less than three minutes left in the second period.

New Jersey pulled in front 99-75 in the fourth quarter before the Amigos rallied and cut the 24-point deficit in half. Les Selvage was high for Anaheim with 23 points.

Bricco, Scheuren Win NMU Football Letters

MARQUETTE — Fifteen Upper Peninsula gridders were among 41 football letter winners at Northern Michigan University following the 1967 season, according to head coach Rollie Dotsch.

The list includes linebacker Arlen Bell, tackle Dennis Porter and linebacker Jack Spuhler of Sault Ste. Marie, defensive back Mike Perry and tackle Tom Watson of Newberry, quarterback Rich McCarthy, and end Paul Santoni of Kingsford, and linebacker Bob Bertrand of Menominee, halfback Bob Bricco of Gladstone, tackle-end Guy Kangas of Ironwood, halfback Jim Lindstrom of Iron Mountain, tackle Gerry Lutri of Stephenson, end Doug Peterson of Stambaugh, tackle Dan Scheuren of Cornell and halfback Geoff Sitkoski of Iron River.

Porter and Spuhler were co-captains on the Wildcat team that posted a 9-0 record, the first perfect regular season in NMU history. Northern lost in post-season play to NAIA champion Fairmont (W. Va.) State. Porter, despite an injury that sidelined him most of the season, won his fourth varsity "N" and Spuhler earned his third award. Both are seniors.

Bricco, who played his high school football at Escanaba Holy Name, ran the ball 19 times for 103 yards as a freshman halfback and was in the starting lineup against Central Michigan.

Lutri was named to the Michigan all-state team as an offensive tackle and earned his third varsity award. He played inside tackle in Northern's unbalanced line.

Scheuren, who played at Escanaba high school, was a reserve who saw action in nearly every Wildcat game as an offensive tackle.

Dotsch said he was "especially pleased" with the 15 U. P. letter winners and their contribution to Northern's highly successful season.

"We were particularly happy that seven of the 11 boys from the peninsula who were in their first season at Northern played regularly and were able to earn letters this fall," said Dotsch.

Six Men Honored

Pack Dominates All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — John Unitas, shut out without a vote last year, was named quarterback of the National Football League All-Star team selected for The Associated Press today by a panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Unitas' skille in guiding the Colts through 13 games without defeat was recognized by a landslide vote of the committee, three from each league city.

Despite the Colts' fine record, the old reliable Green Bay Packers still had the most men on the team with a total of six, two on offense and four on defense. Dallas placed four and Baltimore three. Nine of the teams had players on the first team. New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Minnesota, Detroit and San Francisco were blanked.

Looking ahead to Sunday's meeting of the Colts and Los Angeles Rams for the right to play the Packers in the Western Conference final, Baltimore has Unitas, tight end John Mackey and flanker Willie Richardson on the first offensive team. The Rams put two of their Fearsome Foursome on the defensive line—end Dave "Deacon" Jones and tackle Merlin Olsen.

Unitas' running backs on the first team were the incomparable Gale Sayers of Chicago and Leroy Kelly of Cleveland. His receivers were Mackey, Richardson and split end Charley Taylor of Washington.

Bob DeMarco of St. Louis was the center, flanked by Jerry Kramer of Green Bay and Gene Hickerson of Cleveland at the guards and Ralph Neely of Dallas and Forrest Gregg of Green Bay at the tackles.

The five repeaters from 1966 on offense were Mackey, Gregg, Kramer, Kelly and Sayers. Taylor replaced Dallas' Bob Hayes, Neely took Philadelphia Bob Brown's job at tackle and Hickerson supplanted John Thomas of San Francisco. Both Brown and Thomas were injured much of the season and Hayes wound up with a pulled hamstring.

DeMarco succeeded Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota and Richardson took the flanker job that Detroit's Pat Studstill had a year ago.

Unitas, of course, was filling the spot Bart Starr of Green Bay held in 1966.

There were only three changes in the defensive unit, two linebackers and one cornerback. The same front four were back. That meant Willie Davis of Green Bay at one end and Jones at the other with Bob Lilly of Dallas and Olsen at the tackles.

Tommy Nobis of Atlanta pushed his way into the middle linebacker job, held by Green Bay's Ray Nitschke last year. Dave Robinson of the Packers, replacing teammate Lee Roy Caffey, and repeater Chuck Howley of Dallas, were the other linebackers.

Bob Jeter of the Packers ousted his veteran teammate, Herb Adderley, from one starting corner back job. Cornell Green of Dallas was a repeater at the other corner and both Larry Wilson of St. Louis and Willie Wood of Green Bay were back again as safeties.

Dayton 'Bests' IHL All-Stars

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton, behind the scoring of Cliff Bristow and the fine performance of goalie Rick Best, ripped an International Hockey League All-Star squad for a 6-1 victory Tuesday night.

Best had a shutout going until 3:49 left in the game, but it was spoiled when All-Star Moe Bertoli, player-coach for Columbus, scored on a slapshot from outside. There has never been a shutout in an All-Star game.

Bristow was the only Dayton player to score twice.

The Gems earned the right to take on the All-Stars after winning the league last year. Dayton is currently in first place this season.

A crowd of 2,985 was on hand for the seventh all-star game, the first to be held in Dayton.

Big Bay Plays Saturday Night

NAHMA — The Big Bay de Noc-Rapid River basketball game will be played Saturday night at Nahma. The Daily Press reported that the game was scheduled Friday.

Varsity contest will start at 8 p.m. Junior varsity action begins at 6:30. The games were moved from Manistique to the Nahma gym.

Red Wings Call Rookie Forward

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings called up Gary Marsh, 21, from the Fort Worth Wings of the Central Professional Hockey League Tuesday, and sent Rick McCann, 21, to Fort Worth.

Marsh, a left winger, will play his first National Hockey League game Thursday against Chicago in Detroit, the Wings said.

Bullets Sweep Past Pistons

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets ended a six-game losing streak Tuesday night, beat the Detroit Pistons 140-117, in a National Basketball Association game.

Kevin Loughery, who replaced the injured Don Ohl after two minutes of the game, and rookie Earl Monroe paced the Bullets. Loughery scored 35 points while Monroe poured in 32 points, his high as a rookie.

Monroe scored 27 of his 32 points in the openig half, which ended with Baltimore on top 73-47. The Bullets led after the first period 42-20.

Monroe hit 12 of his first 15 shots and finished with 14 field goals in 21 attempts.

Tom Van Arsdale led the Pistons with 21 points.

Dave Bing, who averaged 40 points against the Bullets the first two times he played against them this season, scored only 11.

Ohl aggravated a pulled tendon in his right thigh.

The defeat left Detroit in third place in the Eastern Division, four games behind league-leading Philadelphia and 2½ back of second-place Boston.

The Pistons are at Cobo Hall tonight for a game with the New York Knicks.

In the only other NBA action, former two-time Princeton All-America Bill Bradley fired in 23 points for New York but the Knicks bowed to St. Louis 145-142 in double overtime while San Diego topped Chicago 118-104.

New Orleans edged Dallas 109-105, Kentucky downed Minnesota 113-104 and New Jersey drubbed Anaheim 117-98 in the American Basketball Association.

"The kid is a competitor, there's no doubt about it," said St. Louis coach Richie Guerin after watching Bradley in his second game as a pro and his first as a starter.

Before the hopes of the 17,524 fans soared with Bradley and crashed with the final result, Hal Greer put on a little show of his own by scoring 38 points in leading the Philadelphia 76ers past the Seattle SuperSonics 118-107.

Bradley missed the only shot in the first quarter but then hit on eight straight as the Knicks ran up a 108-86 lead with 6:55 left in the fourth quarter.

"He's the best rookie I've ever played against," said Joe Caldwell, who guarded Bradley. "He's tough. He's a pro and you can't psyche him."

Skinner's Short Six Making Big Cage Noise At Vanderbilt

By The Associated Press

Two years ago it was Rupp's Runts. Now it's Skinner's Short Six.

Skinner's Short Six refers to Vanderbilt's college basketball team coached by Roy Skinner. Rupp's Runts refers to the Kentucky team coached by Adolph Rupp which was beaten by Texas Western, now Texas, El Paso, in the final of the NCAA championship tourney for the 1966 national title.

Tom Hagan, a 6-foot-3 junior and one of the Short Six, canned a 20-foot jump shot with two seconds left, to give third-ranked Vanderbilt an 81-79 overtime victory over eighth-ranked Davidson at Nashville Tuesday night.

Seventh-ranked North Carolina whipped fourth-ranked Kentucky 84-77 at Greensboro, N.C., in the other major game involving teams in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Skinner's Short Six, Hagan, By Wyenandt, Bob Warren Kenny Campbell, Perry Wallace and Gene Lockyear, average only 6-3½, but they came from 12 points back to knock Davidson from the unbeaten ranks.

The commodores rallied to tie the regulation game at 75-75 before winning in the extra period for their fourth straight. Hagan was high for Vandy with 21, including two field goals in the overtime. Rod Knowles topped Davidson with 22.

"I was concerned about our lack of height, but it hasn't beat us, even though we've played much taller teams," Skinner said. He added that Rupp's Runts "is the only other team I can remember which was great without the big man."

Behind at 54-53, North Carolina exploded to take an 11-point lead in the last eight minutes and hand Kentucky its first defeat. Larry Miller's tip-in put the Tar Heels ahead for good at 65-64 and Rusty Clark followed with several baskets to make it 71-64.

In other games, Michigan State beat Western Michigan 78-67, Baylor overcame New Orleans Loyola 88-75, Texas Tech defeated Oklahoma 74-67, Iowa State downed Northern Illinois 77-69 and Syracuse humbled the Georgetown Hoyas 95-78 in a game delayed for 39 minutes while police searched McDonough Gym in Washington for a bomb. None was found.

Hermansville Rakes Powers Win String

HERMANSVILLE—The four-game winning streak of the Powers - Spalding Tigers remained alive for only one period Tuesday night.

After that, it was all Hermansville as Coach Don Hill's Redskins exploded to a convincing 97-66 victory before a standing room crowd.

The triumph was the fourth for Hermansville against a lone loss to Channing two weeks ago. Powers had entered the contest with successive victories over Rapid River, Pembine, Bark River and Carney.

Tuesday, however, was Hermansville's day.

The Redskins moved to a narrow 19-17 advantage after the first quarter, but built the lead to 10 points at 43-33 by half behind the shooting of Randy Fochesato and John Whitens and the rebounding of Mike Raiche.

Hermansville added three more points to its lead after three quarters and then exploded with 31 points in the final quarter to win going away.

Fochesato, who went over the 1,000 point total for his high school career last Friday night against Champion, fired in 10 field goals and 10 free throws to lead the Redskins' scoring. Whitens netted 25 points, Raiche added 16 and Dennie Grenier chipped in with 12.

Raiche had a strong night on the boards, grabbing 24 of Hermansville's 55 rebounds.

Powers-Spalding scoring was paced by Tom Betters with 22 points.

From the field, Hermansville shot 41 per cent, sinking 33 of 80 shots. The Redskins also canned 31 of 38 free throws off 23 Powers' fouls.

Hermansville won the junior varsity game, 70-51.

Trenary Whips National Mine

TRENARY — Coach Steve Ellis' Trenary basketball team overcame its own mistakes Tuesday night to post a 62 to 56 victory over National Mine.

A total of 43 personal fouls were whistled in the ragged contest and two players from each team fouled out.

The victory was the fourth for Trenary and snapped a two-game losing streak.

Jack Mikulich fired in 19 points to lead the Comets' scoring. Gene Aho had 19 for National Mine.

Trenary shot 37 per cent from the field on 22 baskets in 60 shots. National Mine connected on 20 of 59 shots for 34 per cent.

The game was tied after three quarters, but Trenary opened up an eight point lead in the fourth quarter to assure the victory.

Trenary also won the junior varsity contest, 62 to 24.

Eight Michigan Gridders Named To North Eleven

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eight players from Michigan universities have been named to play for the North team, coached by Bump Elliott of the University of Michigan, in the North-South all-star football game Christmas Day in the Orange Bowl.

The University of Michigan will be represented by four players, Rocky Rosema at end, Pete Mair and Dave Porter at guard and Dennis Morgan in the defensive backfield.

From Michigan State, the North will feature Dwight Lee as a running back, Tony Conti at tackle and Dave Porter at guard.

Dale Livingston of Western Michigan will be the team's kicker.

Central Sinks Calvin College

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Central Michigan overwhelmed Calvin College 93-71 in a nonconference basketball game Tuesday night, with CMU substitutes playing the last half of the second half.

Central led 48-37 at halftime, held the lead throughout the game, and expanded it to 24 points, 76-52, with six minutes to go in the second half.

Jerry Reese and Steve Johnson each scored 14 points to lead Central, with Terry Walker adding 12 and Bill Collins 11. Micky Phelps was high for Calvin with 18 points.

Central is 2-3 for the year, Calvin is 2-2.

Hillsdale Snaps Ashland Streak

HILLSDALE (AP)—Hillsdale came from behind on the shooting of 6-foot-8 Deanis Firzka to snap Ashland's 21-game regular season winning streak 55-54 Tuesday night.

The Dales, who had averaged 95 points a game going into the contest, slowed the pace of their attack and beat Ashland with its own control brand of basketball.

Trailing 28-25 at halftime, the Dales rebounded for a 55-48 lead with 1:45 to go, let the Eagles close the game on baskets resulting from Hillsdale passing errors, but survived by a point.

Spartans Edge Western Quint

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Heywood Edwards sank two free throws with 8:18 remaining in the first half to put Michigan State ahead for good and scored 22 points to pace the Spartans to a 78-67 nonconference college basketball victory over Western Michigan Tuesday night.

The 6-foot, 6-inch senior from Brooklyn, N.Y., hit on 9 of 18 shots from the field and grabbed 13 rebounds.

The Spartans tallied 18 straight points in a three-minute scoring burst, but Western battled back to trail by only three, 36-33, at the half.

Reggie Lacefield led the scoring for the Broncos with 19 points, while Gene Ford added 13 and Ray Schlaff 10. Steve Rymal racked up 14 points for the Spartans, followed by Harrison Stepter with 12 and Lee Lafayette with 11.

The Spartans widened their lead to 19 points during the last half but had to settle for an 11-point edge at the final buzzer.

Stepter opened State's 10-point, first - half scoring burst with two free throws several minutes after Edwards put the Spartans out in front to stay.

Michigan State is now 2-0 while Western has a 1-2 record.

MSU Athletes Better Students Than Classmates

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's varsity athletes had a better academic record during the 1966-67 academic year than their nonvarsity classmates, a grade comparison showed.

The 496 members of 14 varsity athletic squads had a 2.43 average out of a possible high of 4.0. The average for all male undergraduates was 2.34.

Fencers had the highest average with 2.76, wrestlers were second with 2.67 and gymnasts were third with 2.60. The football squad had a 2.34 average.

Lifetime Pact For Pont?

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — John Pont, who directed Indiana University's football team to its first Rose Bowl trip, will get a new lifetime contract with a substantial pay hike, the Indianapolis Star reported today.

The tearing up of his old pact and awarding him the new one may take place at a meeting of the university trustees Friday morning, the Star said. Pont's contract is on the agenda for the trustees' executive meeting, the newspaper said.

It also was learned that a pay increase probably will be given all members of Pont's coaching staff, the Star reported.

Pont's new salary, the paper said, probably will be between $25,000 and $30,000 a year. He now is in the third year of a five-year contract and is receiving $22,000 a year. He was given a raise from $21,200 at the end of the 1966 season.

The former Miami of Ohio and Yale coach arrived at Indiana three seasons ago. He suffered two losing seasons, with an over-all mark of three victories, 16 losses and one tie.

This season his team was an underdog in practically every game, but won eight straight, bowed to Minnesota, then downed favored Purdue. That gave the Hoosiers a tie for the Big Ten title with Purdue and Minnesota, and vaulted them into the Rose Bowl battle against top-ranked Southern California Jan. 1.

Zoologist Says, Plant Prey Fish To Use Alewife

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The 29th annual Midwest Fish and Wildlife Conferehce was told here that alewives, which generally are regarded as a problem on the Great Lakes, are actually a "tremendous asset."

Charles W. Huver, associate professor of zoology and curator of fish at the University of Minnesota, told state and federal wildlife managers they should "recognize the alewife as a tremendous asset on which to build a number of sports fisheries."

Huver suggested crash programs to eliminate the alewife should be disregarded.

Great quantities of the little fish die off each summer and wash onto Lake Michigan beaches, hampering water sports and hurting the tourist trade.

Huver said a recent study in Michigan indicated that sports fishing has 10 times the economic value of a commercial fishery, based on the same numbers of fish.

He said that striped bass would be well suited for planting in Southern Lake Michigan, and alewives are the preferred food of striped bass along the Atlantic Coast, where both species live together.

Rather than working to eliminate the alewives, Huver said, an effort should be made to stock the lake with striped bass, let the predator fish eat the alewives and then build a sport fishing industry on the bass.

Striped bass grow to more than 40 pounds in the sea, Huver said. They have been proved adaptable to fresh water and they may live 20 years.

New Drive Aims At Time Change

MARQUETTE (AP — Armed with petitions from residents and pledges of support from city and county governments, the Marquette Chamber of Commerce has embarked on a program to get most of the Upper Peninsula back in time with the rest of Michigan.

More than 4,000 signatures have been obtained on petitions asking that the Upper Peninsula, with the exception of three counties, be taken off Central Standard Time.

They want to return to Eastern Standard Time, which is the zone for Lower Michigan. The U.S. Department of Transportation has placed all of the Upper Peninsula on central time.

Three counties, Menominee, Dickinson and Gogebic, which are near Wisconsin, traditionally have been in the central zone, and would not be affected by the present drive.

The chamber said it will start action on the state and federal levels to bring about the change. One chamber official said eight county board of supervisors have indicated they favor eastern time. He said several city and village boards have acted on similar resolutions recently.

The change in time means it now gets dark around 3:30 p.m.

House OKs Tax Break For AMC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed legislation Tuesday which will provide a $20 million tax recovery for financially ailing American Motors Corp.

The vote was 273 to 104.

The measure, a Senate rider to an unrelated House bill, would allow a company in American Motors' situation to carry back losses for tax purposes five years instead of three. The company, fourth largest U.S. automobile producer, has incurred heavy losses in recent years, although its sales are now reported increasing.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee, said House conferees agreed to the Senate amendment "because it would preserve desirable competition in the automobile industry."

Tuesday Fire Hits Petoskey Stores

PETOSKEY (AP)—Fire Tuesday caused an estimated $70,000 damage to Christmas toys and religious books at two stores in a downtown Petoskey building. Cause of the fire which started in the basement of the building housing Wonderland Gifts & Toys and the Christian Book Store was undetermined. Firemen battled the blaze five hours and prevented flames from spreading to an adjacent furniture store. No injuries were reported.

Blue Spruce Is LBJ Yule Tree

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House to find a Christmas theme replacing the wedding scene he left and a towering 16½-foot-high blue spruce tree in the Blue Room.

There's everything from gingerbread—plus 8,000 ornaments and 4,000 glittering lights—on the tree.

It was grown by Howard M. Cowan of Portage County, Ohio, winner in a competition of the National Christmas Tree Growers Association.

Tourists will see it, too, with the White House opening today for the first time after a four-day wedding shutdown to the public.

The Johnsons are expected to spend Christmas in the White House for the first time, breaking their tradition of celebrating the holiday at the LBJ Ranch in Texas. The President returned to Washington Tuesday night after a Southern tour.

The Blue Room tree features an angel with gold wings atop branches jammed with Santa Clauses, snowmen, camels, teddy bears, dolls, toy soldiers and drums, glass icicles, shiny silver bells and stars and shining round mirrors.

Strings of nuts, popcorn, and cranberry chains and bright felt flowers are included.

Dan Arje, the display director of Bonwit Teller's Department Store in New York City decorated and designed the tree as he has done for the four years the Johnsons have been in the White House.

Early Payments

LANSING (AP)—Advance payments from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund of $30,000 for Charlevoix County and $34,000 for Oscoda County have been approved by the State Highway Commission. Both county road commissions said they need the advances to meet payrolls.

Second Floor—Fashions

For the girl who knows clothes

R&K fashions the never-out-of-season dress. 85% worsted wool, 15% silk in the dress illustrated. Self fabric buttons and high yoke — is just part of the excitement. For an extra added touch — a contrasting scarf draped softly around the collar. Beige, brown and black. Choose an R&K original for those many holiday happenings coming up.
